Quincy Teachers Seek 'Fair, Equitable' Contract

Koch: School Board Willing To Give QEA Same Raises As Police, Firefighters

By SCOTT JACKSON

With dozens of educators in attendance, members of the Quincy Education Association spoke out at a recent School Committee meeting saying that they want a "fair and equitable" contract for the teachers' union.

Mayor Thomas Koch meanwhile told The Sun that the school board is willing to give the union the same raises police and firefighters have received in their new contracts.

Twelve members of the Quincy Education Association spoke during the open forum portion of the school board's meeting on Oct. 26.

"I've come this evening to respectfully request a fair and equitable contract for the members of the Quincy Education Association," said Carol Austin, a teacher at the Parker Elementary School and Quincy resident.

Natalie Valente, a teacher at Quincy High School and a Quincy resident, said the school board was asking her and other educators to accept less than what they are

2 UMass Band Members From Quincy Marching In Parade

*QHS Graduate
Ilkim Gumus,
NQHS Graduate
Liana Gau*

Two members of the award-winning University of Massachusetts Minuteman Marching Band that will headline the 67th annual Christmas Parade on Sunday, Nov. 27th have their musical roots in Quincy.

Ilkim Gumus, a graduate of Quincy High School and Liana Gau, a graduate of North Quincy High School both participated in the Quincy/North Quincy marching band for four years under the direction of Band Director Matt Cavanaugh. Both are now sophomores at UMass and are Quincy's connection to the 388-member band.

This is Ilkim's second year in the band where she plays the trumpet, while Liana transferred to UMass this year and is a member of the front ensemble. Ilkim started out studying computers but has changed her major to music education and psychology. Liana currently majors in music theory. Both musicians had high praise for their experience with the Q/NQ marching band and the guidance of band director Cavanaugh.

"I can not emphasize enough how incredibly special this parade is to me," Liana said. "My journey has truly come full circle. I grew up watching the parade with my family; I marched in the parade for four years. Coming back as a member of the Minuteman Band means so much to me."

Ilkim said:

"I am so excited for the Minutemen to be a part of the Quincy Parade this year. I can't wait for all the QNQ band members to see what a college band looks like and how much fun it can be. The QNQ band helped me find a passion for music and hope our appearance will do the same for someone else and inspire to continue pursuing their musical interests." Il-kim has a younger sister in the current Q/NQ band.

The UMass band, under the direction of Timothy Anderson, Ed., is known nationally as one of the top college bands in the country and coming home to perform in Quincy in front of family and friends is particularly exciting to both young musicians.

The Minuteman Marching Band is a source of great pride for the University and the Commonwealth, and has appeared at the Rose Bowl parade, Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade and presidents inaugural ceremonies.

The 380 members will fill a city block in the parade, and this will be the first time a band of this size and caliber will have marched in the Quincy Christmas Parade. The parade will step off at noon on Sunday, Nov. 27 in Quincy Square and proceed north on Hancock Street to North Quincy High School.

Nomination Papers Available Nov. 15 For Ward 4 Election

By SCOTT JACKSON

Nomination papers for candidates interested in running for the Ward 4 seat on the City Council will be made available on Nov. 15, said City Clerk Nicole Crispo.

The nomination papers cannot be made available until after city councillors set the timeline for the election, she said. Councillors will do so at their next meeting, which is set for Nov. 14.

Candidates interested in running for the open seat must reside within Ward 4, which includes parts of South and West Quincy. Candidates will be required to collect signatures from 50 residents who are registered to vote in the ward, the same signature requirement as a regular municipal election.

Candidates will likely have between 35 and 45 days to obtain the requisite signatures, Crispo said. A preliminary election would be held in mid-January, if necessary, with the final election the following month.

The winner of the special election will serve out the remainder of current City Council term, which expires at the end of 2023. The next regular municipal election – during which all nine seats on the City Council, plus the mayor and three School Committee seats, will appear on the ballot – is set for November 2023.

Two potential candidates for the Ward 4 seat, Joel Buenaventura of Common Street and Matthew Lyons of Willard Street, have established campaign committees in recent weeks, according to records filed with the Massachusetts Office of Campaign and Political Finance.

Longtime councillor Brian Palmucci resigned from the Ward 4 seat on Oct. 25, days after his appointment as an associate justice of the District Court was unanimously confirmed on Oct. 19 by the Governor's Council. Palmucci had represented Ward 4 on the City Council since 2010.

City Council President Noel DiBona said he would serve as a point of contact for the constituents of Ward 4 until the new councillor is seated.

"As well as Council President and Councillor At-Large, I will be taking over duties for Ward 4 in place of Brian Palmucci until a new Ward 4 Councillor takes office, which could be in February or March of 2023," DiBona wrote in an email.

Residents can reach DiBona by email at ndibona@quincyma.gov or by phone at 617-834-4081.

Prior to leaving the council, Palmucci had been serving as the chairperson of its oversight and public safety committees. DiBona said that Ward 3 Councillor Ian Cain will now serve as the chairperson of the oversight committee, which is a committee of the whole, and Ward 6 Councillor William Harris will chair the public safety committee. Cain and Harris had been the vice chairs of those respective committees.

gin forming up at 10 a.m. inside the school parking lot.

The procession will wend its way up Russell Park to Hancock Street to the World War II monument inside Merrymount Park. Along the way, the parade will pause briefly at the corner of Hancock Street and Furnace Brook Parkway for a wreath-laying ceremony at the Doughboy Statue, which honors Quincy residents who served during World War I.

At the conclusion of the parade, the solemn ceremony will take place in front of the World War II monument at Merrymount Park, which is located near the corner of Hancock Street and Merrymount Parkway. The ceremony will start at approximately 11 a.m.

Capt. Christopher "Chowdah" Hill will be the featured speaker at the event on Nov. 11. A 1992 graduate of North Quincy High School, Hill is currently the incoming commanding officer of the USS Dwight

D. Eisenhower, an aircraft carrier. From 2017 to 2019, he was the executive officer aboard the aircraft carrier USS George H.W. Bush, participating in Operation

Inherit Resolve. He has also served as the commanding officer of the amphibious transport dock USS Arlington. After North Quincy High School, Hill attended Tufts University, graduating magna cum laude with a bachelor's degree in political science in 1996. He is also

She chronicled the trip in her book "Around the World in 72 Days."

• On Nov. 15, 1949, Nathuram Godse, Narayan Apte and six of their co-conspirators in the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi were hanged at the Ambala jail. Godse, unhappy over Gandhi's accommodation of Indian Muslims, had shot Gandhi the previous January while Gandhi was out for his evening prayers.

• On Nov. 16, 1990, Fabrice Morvan and Rob Pilatus, known to the pop music world as Milli Vanilli, were humiliatedly stripped of their Grammy award for the "Girl You Know It's True" album when it was revealed they hadn't sung even a note of it.

• On Nov. 17, 1827, the Delta Phi fraternity, America's oldest continuous social fraternity, was founded at Union College in Schenectady, New York. With just 10 active chapters today, it has resisted expansion in order to create an "intimate, personal experience" for its members.

• On Nov. 18, 1872, American civil rights activist Susan B. Anthony and 14 of her brave female cohorts were arrested for voting illegally in the United States presidential election of 1872. Though she was fined $100, she refused to pay a cent of it.

Their unsurprising lack of enthusiasm shelved the project for nearly a decade.

Drying gourds

Clean gourds with soapy water and air dry; hang them in a dark area, making sure they do not touch, for about 6 months. Discard any that decay, shrivel or get soft. If mold appears, wipe it with a cloth dipped in bleach. When the gourds become light, solidly hard and you hear the seeds rattling inside when you shake them, they can be carved or painted. - Brenda Weaver

Public Safety Unions Agree To Three-Year Contracts

The city's three unions representing police officers and firefighters have agreed to new three-year contracts that include a 9 percent salary increase and the reinstatement of education incentives for younger first responders, the Administration of Mayor Thomas P. Koch announced Tuesday.

"We have the best police and fire departments in the entire Commonwealth, and these agreements are a reflection on the work these men and women do on a daily basis for our community," Koch said. "I'm grateful to all the negotiating teams for working continuously in the spirit of collaboration, rolling up their sleeves, and working out deals that benefit both our first responders and the taxpayers."

The three unions -- The Quincy Police Patrol Officers Association; The Quincy Police Superior Officers Association and the Quincy Firefighters Association Local 792 -- represent more than 400 first responders, including command staffs with the exception of the chiefs of the departments.

In 2013, amid the last recession, the three unions agreed to a contract that saw the education incentives -- which provide additional pay for first responders obtaining advanced degrees -- reduced for police and firefighters hired from that point on. The new contract returns the full incentive for those younger officers and firefighters hired after 2013, making education incentives equitable across the departments.

"The Executive Board of the QPPOA worked hard at the table. We protected our current benefits, navigated the City's wants and the members' requests and were able to reach a fair agreement that included a good wage package. We truly appreciate the continued support of the community and our elected officials," said Greg Hartnett, President of the QPPOA.

As part of the agreement, the two police unions agreed to policy changes that will allow for changes in how details can be scheduled and additional injury-time protections for the City. The two contracts are largely similar, with minor adjustments to create pay equity for long-serving officers and professional development time for Superior Officers.

"We feel that the new contract is a fair and reasonable deal that protects our membership while at the same time provides the highest levels of service to the citizens of Quincy. We would like to thank Mayor Tom Koch and his team for their continued support, as well as the professional and worth.

"Our work isn't valued, understood or appreciated with the counter offers we've seen come across that bargaining table," Valente said. "We have already lost so many great teachers over the past few years to other districts who put their teachers first, knowing full well that a school district that supports their teachers ultimately supports their students and their families. The more involved and respected we are in the community, the more of an impact we can have on students to do the right the thing, to take the right road, the better path."

Mollie Ehrlich, the nurse at the Merrymount Elementary School and a Quincy resident, asked the school board to, "remember all the hard work and the hours spent by the Quincy Public Schools nurses during the pandemic to keep students and staff safe and healthy during such a challenging few years."

"Please take this into consideration when discussing contract negotiations," Ehrlich said.

In addition to the dozen Quincy Education Association members who spoke during open forum, two residents voiced their support for the city's educators at the meeting.

"I've often heard that a budget is a value statement," said Liz Speakman, a former candidate for school board, "and I know in my heart that we all value our children and our educators, and I would love to see our budget reflect that and reflect our values as a community."

"Teachers, please know that parents across the city, we see what you do for our kids," said Courtney Perdios, a former school board member. "We see everything you do from behind the scenes, everything that's not in your contract that you go over and above for your kids. I just want to say that we support you and we thank you."

In an interview with The Sun prior to the Oct. 26 meeting, Koch, the chairperson of the school board, said contract talks are ongoing and he wished the two sides were closer.

"I think there's been nine sessions of negotiations between both parties. I wish we were closer. That's all I can say," Koch said.

The city's contracts with each of the unions representing municipal employees expired this summer, at the end of June on the city side and August on the school side, the mayor said. He said the city has since agreed to new 3-3-3 contracts -- meaning a three-year contract with 3 percent annual raises -- with the unions representing firefighters, police patrol officers and police superior officers.

The school board would be willing to accept a contract with those same terms if the Quincy Education Association asked for it, the mayor said.

"If the bargaining unit from the QEA said to me or said to the committee tomorrow, 'we'd like to have 3-3-3,' I'm sure we could settle that in a moment," Koch said.

"I would never give the teachers less than what other public servants have received," the mayor added.

Registry Of Deeds Food Drive Nov. 14 - Dec. 13

As inflation rates continue to rise and the cost of living becomes an increasing challenge for some families across Norfolk County, Register of Deeds William O'Donnell is asking people to contribute to the Annual Registry of Deeds Food Drive, starting Monday, Nov. 14th and running through Tuesday, Dec. 13th.

"There is no doubt that Norfolk County is a desirable place to live and to work," O'Donnell said. "However, there are people throughout the county that are truly hurting. This year we, as a community, have seen an unprecedented rise in inflation rates, especially in the cost of food. Some Norfolk County families are hit harder by these increased costs and worry about putting food on the table this holiday season."

Today, according to the latest Project Bread statistics, 19.6% of households in Massachusetts are considered food insecure. Furthermore, 22% of children in the state are also considered food insecure. The increasing cost of housing and food are likely factors that contribute to the rising rates of food insecurity.

"As the holidays approach, there is definitely a need for more food assistance," O'Donnell said. "Household expenses are higher due to the cost of home heating fuel, food bills, and increased interest rates. Let us be mindful during this Thanksgiving season that others may need our help."

Non-perishable food items can be brought directly to the Registry of Deeds, which is located at 649 High St. in Dedham. A donation bin will be set-up in the Registry's lobby and food can be dropped off Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Suggested donations include canned goods, breakfast cereals, pasta, sauces, toiletries, and paper products.

If you can't get to the Registry of Deeds building to drop off food, check the Registry website at www.norfolkdeeds.org for a pantry location in your community.

"Working together, we can truly make a huge difference this holiday season," O'Donnell added.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. All land record research information can be found on the Registry's website, www.norfolkdeeds.org. For more information call (781) 461-6101 or email registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.

Scenes From Yesterday

THIS IS A 1910 postcard view of the beach and cottages on Post Island Road in Post Island, a little known and secluded section of Quincy. Post Island is situated between Shell Beach in Adams Shore and The Bit in Houghs Neck. It is not part of Houghs Neck. Post Island was originally the easternmost section of the colonial land grant to William Coddington in the 1630s. When he was self-exiled to Rhode Island, he sold a large portion of his land stretching from what is now Mount Wollaston Cemetery to and including Post Island and beyond nearly to The Bit. Through inheritance it later became the Mount Wollaston Farm of Colonel John Quincy for whom the city was named. In the 19th century, it became the property of John Quincy Adams II and his wife Fanny Crowinshield Adams. They built a large mansion on the farm near Samoset Avenue. Adams died in 1894 and his wife and family began selling the property to land developers. In 1896, Post Island was the last parcel to be sold. The subdivision had 34 house lots with 10 of them on the water including the cottages shown above. Today, these are year-round homes.

Board OKs New Japanese Restaurant On Foster Street

By SCOTT JACKSON

A new Japanese restaurant is set to open on Foster Street in Quincy Center sometime early next year.

The Board of License Commissioners on Oct. 25 granted an all-alcoholic beverages license and a common victualler license to Quincy Sky Inc. d/b/a Omori Izakaya & Sushi for the premises at 11 Foster St. The restaurant's licensed hours will be 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. seven days a week.

The owner of the new eatery, Henderson Li, currently operates two similarly named restaurants in Brookline and Malden, the applicant's attorney, Ka Wong, told the board. The manager of the new restaurant, Yong Qi Li, has 20 years of experience in the industry.

"Yong has been in the restaurant business for over 20 years," Wong said. "He understands the rules and regulations of the ABCC and also how to serve liquor. The policy is that whenever an order is taken, they will check the license."

Wong said the restaurant will include about 2,000 square feet of space and will seat approximately 48 patrons. The space will need to be renovated before the restaurant can open.

"Because there will be renovations, we don't expect to open until February or March," Wong said.

During the board's public hearing, Sheryl Percy, the owner of the building at 17 Foster St., home to Miller Studio, voiced her opposition to the proposed restaurant.

"We've been in Quincy Center for a very long time and feel that we would like to keep the quietness of that little street. That is what attracted my dad when he built the building there. It's a very professional street — there are businesses there, lawyers' offices, an advertising agency, so on and so forth," Percy.

"It is just our opinion another restaurant on that tiny little street which has parking, trash so on and so forth is just not in the best interest of that particular street."

Board members voted 4-0, with Fire Chief Joseph Jackson absent, in favor of the application. Police Chief Paul Keenan said he appreciated Percy's concerns, but there are already a number of restaurants located throughout the downtown.

"I understand your concerns, ma'am, about the place, but in reality, there are several liquor establishments all around it, restaurants. It is in the middle of Quincy Square, which is kind of the entertainment zone," Keenan said.

"I do appreciate what you're saying, we always take that into account when we hear from residents and business owners, we try and take that into account, but it really is kind of the downtown area."

Two establishments, the restaurant Fat Cat and the bar Sully's, were previously located on nearby Chestnut Street, Keenan added.

City Clerk Nicole Crispo, the chairperson of the licensing board, said the site is considered part of the downtown and noted lawmakers previously approved special legislation to create more than two dozen liquor licenses that can only be used within Quincy Center. The restaurant on Foster Street did not seek such a license but would have been eligible for one.

Crispo also noted the city's planning department waived site-plan review for the new restaurant. Rob Stevens, the city's deputy planning director, told The Sun site-plan review can be waived for new businesses moving into existing buildings in the downtown, provided the application meets certain conditions.

In other business on Oct. 25, the licensing board:

Granted a charity wine pouring license to the Old Colony YMCA for a fundraiser at the Marriott Hotel scheduled for this Friday from 6 to 9 p.m. The event is expected to draw about 300 attendees.

Granted the request of Break Rock Brewing in Marina Bay for a change in its hours to 8 a.m. to 1 a.m. six days a week, and 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. on Sundays. Jay Southwood said the brewery wanted flexibility to hold events, like weddings, later than the establishment is typically open.

Granted the request of HP Properties LLC for a lodging house license for the premises at 49-51 Holmes St. due to a change in ownership of the existing lodging home. Chris Lydon said he plans to make a long-term investment in the property.

Continued until further notice the request of Danny's Hardware for an off-premises beer and wine license for the location at 53 Billings Rd.

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1980
42 Years Ago

Reagan, Prop 2 1/2 Cerasoli, Eeley Win

Quincy went Republican in a presidential election for the first time in 24 years as its contribution to Ronald Reagan's landslide victory over President Jimmy Carter.

The margin was a slim 61 votes.

Reagan got 18,038 votes to 17,977 for Carter in the "City of Presidents" and the third major candidate, Independent John Anderson, received 5,328 votes.

Referendum Question #2, the controversial Proposition 2 1/2, limiting the municipal tax levy, swept Quincy by a 26,859 to 14,135 margin; it won by 3-to-2 around the state.

In the only contested election on the Quincy ballot, Rep. Robert Cerasoli easily prevailed over George Lawler of Weymouth by 11,532 to 5,128.

And Quincy attorney Peter Eeley apparently won the Fourth District seat on the Governor's Council. He outpolled the GOP's William Robinson of Hull in Quincy 28,178 to 9,609.

(Editor's note: Results from other communities in the district confirmed Eeley's win.)

BAD NEWS: $242.60 TAX RATE FORECAST

Announcement of a $242.60 tax rate for fiscal 1981, an increase of $18.60 over the previous year, was expected in a matter of days.

Mayor Arthur H. Tobin refused to confirm or deny the figures but he said if certain figures are accepted by the state "the tax rate increase will be $1 or $1.50 less than the projected $2."

"When I announce it," he added, "I want to be able to say that this is it."

It was an apparent reference to the fact that last year the tax rate was prematurely announced at $221.20, then the figure was withdrawn at the insistence of the state and rose to $224.

Tobin pointed out that the tax rates already announced by cities and towns across the state have averaged an increase of 9.1% while Quincy, if it turns out to be $18.60, would rise only 8.1%.

World Premiere At 'Opening Day' Milton Community Concert Sunday

On Sunday, Nov. 6 at 3 p.m. Milton Community Concerts will present the compositions of local composer Carol Koffinke in a program for choir and professional soloists.

The concert, "Sharing Ourselves, Reuniting Our Voices: Music by Carol Koffinke," will take place in the historic Meetinghouse at First Parish of Milton, 535 Canton Ave. It will feature several world premiere performances and will serve as the Gala Opening Concert of the 2022-23 MCC concert season.

Soloists will be Angela Yam, soprano; Alexandra Dietrich, mezzo-soprano; David Rivera Bozon, tenor; and Keith Eric Brinkley, baritone. The choir is made up of singers from the First Parish Meetinghouse choir, the UCC Norwell choir, and others from choirs around the South Shore. Conductors/pianists Karen Harvey and Timothy Steele will also be joined by violinist Betsy Hinkle.

Tickets are $20 general, $10 seniors, and free for 18 and under.

Composer Carol Koffinke began as a writer of poems, plays, and books, several of which were performed and published. Since then she has set many of her poems to music in original settings for solo voice and for choir. Highlighting this program will be the world premiere of "Life," a work for four soloists, choir, and piano which explores in four distinct phases our universal life journey.

Other upcoming concerts for MCC include four new mini-operas based on culturally diverse holiday traditions in "Let's Celebrate" on Dec. 3 at 7 p.m.; a virtuosic musician and juggler in "Tunes and Tosses" on March 19 at 3 p.m.; and "Sing For Their Supper" a benefit concert for the Milton Residents Fund and Milton Food Pantry, on May 6 at 7 p.m.

Movie Review: 'Black Adam'

By BOB GARVER

It makes perfect sense to cast Dwayne Johnson as a superhero. Actually, it might make too much sense. Like, it's a little too on-the-nose. Here's a guy that is tremendously built and athletically gifted, with a seemingly unlimited arsenal of charisma, money, and fame. Heck, the guy spent years convincing arenas full of people that he could hurt his wrestling opponents just by taking off his elbow pad, doing a silly little dance, bouncing off the ropes, and falling on them elbow-first. He practically has superpowers already.

So "Black Adam" has to do something special in the script department to make this movie stand out from every other Dwayne Johnson actioner. The good news is that it does. The bad news is that what it does do differently, it doesn't do very well.

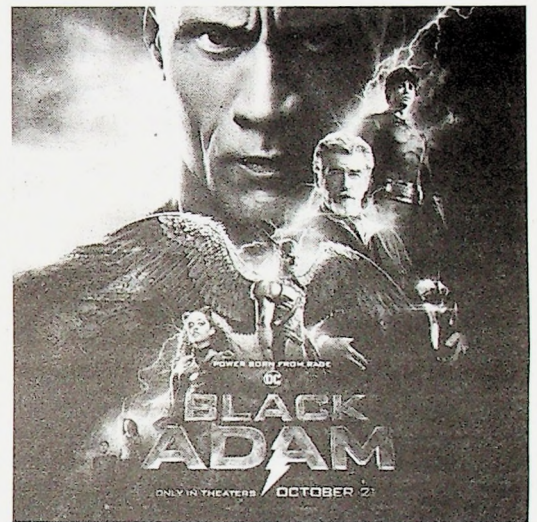

In a nutshell, Teth-Adam (he isn't called "Black" Adam until late in the movie) is an ancient warrior from the kingdom of Kahndaq, imbued with powers from the same council of wizards responsible for Shazam in the DC Extended Universe. Entombed for 5,000 years, he is awakened by Dr. Adriana Tomaz (Sarah Shahi), under life-threatening orders from henchmen of the evil Ishmael Gregor (Marwan Kenzari).

In his disoriented state, Adam doesn't know who he can trust, but it sure isn't the goons pointing weapons at him. He sets about on a killing spree, taking out immediate threats, then their reinforcements, then those people's reinforcements, and so on until he's a threat on a global scale.

Adam soon attracts the attention of the Justice Society of America. A team led by Hawkman (Aldis Hodge) is dispatched to Kahndaq to neutralize the threat, even though they have little understanding of who they're up against or how to deal with him. Other members of the team include the brainy Cyclone (Quintessa Swindell), mammoth Atom Smasher (Noah Centineo), and prophetic Doctor Fate (Pierce Brosnan). The JSA assume they're the white knights to Adam's...blackness, but he operates more in a world of gray, and so do they, even if they don't want to admit it. The real threat comes from Ishmael, who means to harm Tomaz's son Amon (Bodhi Sabongui) if he doesn't get what he wants. Perhaps a team-up is in order?

Adam, like most superheroes, comes with a ton of emotional baggage, largely related to his son Hurut (Jalon Christian/Uli Latukefu). The movie spends an exhausting amount of time on Adam and Hurut's backstory, and even more time on unnecessary characters. Cyclone and Atom Smasher are only in this movie to fill out the JSA's numbers and provide some unwelcome comic relief. Johnson alone is all the comedic talent this movie needs. The same can be said for Dr. Tomaz's electrician brother Karim (Mohammed Amer). I'll let Amon skate (literally), but the movie could have toned down the character's 90's-style obnoxiousness and fanboy tendencies.

Adam's distinguishing characteristic is that he's eager to kill people, a trait usually seen from "heroes" on the fringes of the big franchises and not from main members of the Avengers or Justice League (it is implied that the latter is in Adam's future). For a character this homicidal to work, the movie really needs R-rated violence, not PG-13 toothlessness. I know it would cost this movie its teenage audience to go with an R rating, but fans can sniff out a neutered R-rated property a mile away, and the results are often disastrous. Johnson carrying a superhero movie makes for a surefire hit, but did it have to be this plodding, overstuffed, sterilized, frankly uninteresting take on "Black Adam"?

Eggroll Mac, Bacon and Cheese

By MARIE

I found this delicious recipe for Eggroll Mac, Bacon and Cheese recently online. I know as you are reading this you are thinking that it sounds delicious and you are going to try it very soon on a fall evening.

If you enjoy eggroll and mac and cheese you will really enjoy this dish.

Start by making the sauce for the pasta—
Ingredients below:

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons of all-purpose flour
3 cups of milk
8 ounces of cheddar cheese
8 ounces of your favorite cheese, i.e., swiss, mozzarella or anything that you like.

Cook 8 to 10 slices of bacon and cut into pieces and set aside.

In a large saucepan, melt the butter and add the flour, milk and cheeses until well blended and smooth, set aside.

Cook the pasta according to directions. Drain and then pour sauce over pasta.

Fold in the pieces of bacon.

Bake until bubbly about 10 minutes in a 350-degree pre-heated oven.

Creating the eggroll wraps:

4 egg roll wraps
3 tablespoons of oil
3 tablespoons of butter

Using 4 eggroll wraps, place the baked mac and cheese in the center of each wrap.

Wrap up like a package and wet the edges of the wrap with water to secure the edges.

In a skillet add the 3 tablespoons of butter and sauté the wraps until crispy and browned. Enjoy!

Homemade Applesauce

By SUZIE

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away" is not just a cliché. They really are associated with the risk of certain chronic diseases, including heart disease (because of their high fiber and pectin) diabetes, even asthma and certain cancers (specifically colon and liver).

Apples ranked second for highest antioxidant activity. However, they ranked highest for the proportion of free phenolic compounds which make them more easily absorbed in the blood stream. Much of their antioxidants are actually in the peel of the apple (catechin, procyanidins, chlorogenic acid to name a few)

It is very important to only look for organic apples. Apples are one of the most pesticide contaminated fruits there is. Even if you wash them, many pesticides are "lipophilic" which means they enter the flesh of the fruit (or vegetable) so all the washing in the world won't reduce all of them, but does help some.

Make sure you always refrigerate to ensure crispness! A bowl of apples look pretty, but in a couple of days, they will lose their crispness.

Slice them and sprinkle with cinnamon for a quick and easy snack to satisfy your sweet cravings. Slice and spread with some almond butter for a more filling snack with added protein and healthy fats.

Chop up and throw on a salad for extra crunch and sweetness. Add to chicken salad for a delicious sweet and crisp addition as well!

Here is an "INSTAPOT" recipe for easy and delicious homemade applesauce using no added sugar. If you would like it a little sweeter, add a tablespoon of maple syrup or honey. Peel and core the apples, and throw into the instapot. Set on high for 5 minutes. Release, then open up and use immersion blender (or a potato masher if you like chunky) and blend. Delicious served with cream on top!

3 1/2 pounds apples (mix of gala, granny smith, and fuji)
3/4 cup water (or apple juice)
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons ghee or butter
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon ground allspice
1/8 teaspoon sea salt

Quincy's James Holbert Graduates Iron Workers Union Apprenticeship Program

James Holbert, a 29-year-old Quincy resident, stands among the most recent graduates of the acclaimed Iron Workers Local 7 apprenticeship program. Now, he continues his work on major building projects throughout the region as a fully licensed journeyman.

"I was at a dead-end in my job and didn't see myself going anywhere, so I took a leap," Holbert says. "I first found out about the opportunity from a friend of mine who sent me a post on Facebook about the apprenticeship program and how to apply. Anyone thinking of joining a union, I'm here to say it's a great move. I love it."

Holbert said he was frustrated with his job at a window and power washing company, a non-union position where his pay was stagnant and his opportunities for advancement were limited. After some encouragement from his friend and from his girlfriend's father, who is a Local 7 signatory contractor, he started to learn more about the industry and look into its opportunities.

Holbert became an apprentice in 2019 and graduated from the program this summer. He works with rebar as a rodbuster on job sites around Boston, with some of his latest projects including the Green Line extension and a new building at 1200 Hancock St. in Quincy.

union iron worker. Apprentices who go through the three-year program receive classroom and shop hours in addition to on-the-job training.

"I've met a lot of people who are now going to be lifelong friends of mine," Holbert says of his classmates in the apprenticeship program. "I met teachers that were so helpful. I don't know how I can ever repay them, other than being the best I can be."

Holbert said he loves the work. "I like the way it challenges you and makes you think," he says. "Every new job you look at is a puzzle and you're putting the pieces together. The days go by so fast because you're always moving and thinking of the next step. It's great being outside all day working with basically your best friends."

With career stability, best-in-class wages, and top-notch benefits, Holbert is now planning for the future, including planning to buy his first home.

"Local 7 has provided me with stability I never would have had before," he says. "Before this, I was paycheck to paycheck. The union sets you up in a way that you're never really in a jam. I'm finally at a spot in my life where I can take those next steps."

Local 7 Business Manager Mike Hess praised the program's recent graduates who are now working as journeymen on jobsites around the region.

"It's been amazing to see our new graduates — men and women from a wide variety of backgrounds — come together for the common goal of building a better Boston and a better Commonwealth," Hess said. "James is just one of many new members proving that union jobs build communities, provide family-sustaining wages and safe worksites, and are the surest path to the middle class. We are proud of James and all our recent graduates."

place on Election Day.

For the final state election, ballots returned in-person or in the drop box must be delivered by 8 p.m. on the day of the election, Tuesday, Nov. 8. Ballots returned by mail will be counted if they are received by 5 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 12, provided they are postmarked on or before Election Day.

Absentee balloting is also ongoing. The deadline to vote absentee in the election is noon on Monday, Nov. 7.

On the day of the election itself, Tuesday, Nov. 8, polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Information on all the above, plus a list of polling place and the updated precinct map, can be found online on the city's website, quincyma.gov. Just click the link for "Early Voting" on the website's homepage.

City Clerk Nicole Crispo has said she expects 50 percent of the city's approximately 63,000 registered voters will cast ballots this year. That forecast is based on the turnout in the last two state elections; 55.4 percent of the city's registered voters cast ballots four years ago and 44.3 percent did so in 2014.

The 2014 election, like this year's election, includes a race for the open governor's seat. The state's incumbent governor, Republican Charlie Baker, opted not to run for reelection this year and Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito chose not to run for reelection or for Baker's seat.

The candidates vying to replace him, in order of appearance on the ballot, are: Republicans Geoff Diehl and Leah Allen; Democrats Maura Healey and Kimberly Driscoll; and Libertarians Kevin Reed and Peter Everett.

Two candidates are running to replace Healey as the state's attorney general. They are Democrat Andrea Campbell of Boston and Republican James McMahon III of Bourne.

The other open seat this year is the state auditor. The incumbent auditor, Democrat Suzanne Bump, opted not to run for a new term this year.

Five candidates are running to replace her. They are: Republican Anthony Amore of Winchester, Democrat Diana DiZoglio of Methuen, Green-Rainbow candidate Gloria Caballero-Roca of Holyoke, Workers Party candidate Dominic Giannone III of Weymouth, and Libertarian Daniel Riek of Yarmouth.

The state's remaining constitutional officers both face challengers this year as well.

Three candidates are in the race for secretary of the commonwealth. They are incumbent Democrat William Galvin of Boston, Republican Rayla Campbell of Whitman and Green-Rainbow candidate Juan Sanchez of Holyoke.

The race for treasurer features two candidates: incumbent Democrat Deborah Goldberg of Brookline and Libertarian Cristina Crawford of Sherborn.

Seats in the state legislature are also on the ballot this year.

Voters in the Norfolk and Plymouth Senate District, which includes all of Quincy, will decide the race between incumbent Democrat John Keenan of Quincy and Republican Gary Innes of

Election Day Tuesday; Voters To Decide Ballot Questions

Hanover. Keenan is running for a seventh two-year term.

One of the three state representatives who represents Quincy is facing a challenger, while the other two are unopposed. The contested race is in the Second

Norfolk District, where incumbent Democrat Tackey Chan of Quincy is opposed by Republican Sharon Cinto of Quincy. Incumbent Democrat Bruce Ayers of Quincy is unopposed in the First Norfolk District and incumbent Democrat Ronald Mariano of Quincy, the speaker of the House, is unopposed in the Third Norfolk District.

Chan is running for his seventh two-year term, Ayers his 13th and Mariano his 17th.

Voters in Massachusetts and across the United States will decide races for seats on Capitol Hill in the election as well.

Voters in Massachusetts' Eighth Congressional District, which includes all of Quincy, will decide the race between incumbent Democrat Stephen Lynch of Boston and Republican Robert Burke of Milton. Lynch is seeking his twelfth two-year term on Capitol Hill.

This year's ballot also includes a contested race for the governor's council seat for the Fourth District, which includes all of Quincy. That race pits incumbent Democrat Christopher Lannella Jr. of Boston against Republican Helene "Teddy" MacNeal of Boston.

Also on the ballot is a race for Norfolk County commissioner. That race sees incumbent Democrat Peter Collins of Milton opposed by independent candidate Matthew Sheehan of Dedham.

Norfolk District Attorney Michael Morrissey and Norfolk County Sheriff Patrick McDermott, both Quincy Democrats, are unopposed this year in their bids for reelection.

Voters across Massachusetts will vote on four ballot questions this year.

Question 1 is a proposed constitutional amendment. A YES vote on Question 1 would amend the state constitution to impose an additional 4 percent tax on that portion of income over $1 million to be used, subject to appropriation by the state legislature, on education and transportation. A NO vote on Question 1 would make no change to the constitution relative to income tax.

The next two questions are both laws proposed by initiative petitions.

A YES vote on Question 2 would regulate dental insurance rates, including by requiring companies to spend at least 83 percent of premiums on member dental expenses and quality improvements instead of administrative expenses, and by making other changes to dental insurance regulations. A NO vote on Question 2 would make no change in the law relative to regulations that apply to dental insurance companies.

Walking Tour Nov. 13

0 Harriet Avenue

The Department of Natural Resources Environmental Treasures program invites the public on a walking tour to celebrate the city's acquisition of 0 Harriet Avenue on Sunday, Nov. 13.

Tours will be at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. Registration is required by selecting a tour to attend and emailing sowen@quincyma.gov.

In 2021 using Community Preservation Act funds, the city was finally able to acquire long sought after open space that provides access to the Neponset River near the Milton line. On this tour participants will travel back in time using maps and photos to when this was the site of the Montclair station off the Granite Branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The tour will search for signs of older forms of transportation as well. Was this the site of the 1638 penny ferry? Who built the long jetty (referred to as Black Rock) into the river and for what purpose?

The tour will provide beautiful views of the river and salt marshes along with the muted oranges, reds and yellows of fall foliage as participants explore an area of Quincy they have likely never seen!

MPL Book Sale Nov. 5

The Friends of the Milton Public Library will host its annual Great Books Sale, in the Keys Community Room, on Saturday, Nov. 5, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The sale features more than 750 newly donated collectible, unusual, and gift giving selections, priced from $2-$5, and sorted by category, including art, history, biographies, fiction, and more. The Friends Book Shop will also be open during the sale with its regular selection of gently used books priced from $.50 for children's books to $2-$3 for adult books. Cash, checks, Venmo, and credit cards, are accepted at the sale located on the lower level of the Milton Public Library at 476 Canton Ave.

tion. A NO vote on Question 3 would make no change in the laws governing the retail sale of alcoholic beverages.

Question 4 is a referendum on an existing law. A YES vote on Question 4 would keep place in the law, which would allow Massachusetts residents who cannot provide proof of lawful presence in the United States to obtain a driver's license or permit if they meet the other requirements for doing so. A NO vote on Question 4 would repeal this law.

Voters in the Third Norfolk District will vote on an additional two non-binding ballot questions.

Question 5 asks, "Shall the representative for this district be instructed to vote for legislation to create a single payer system of universal health care that provides all Massachusetts residents with comprehensive health care coverage including the freedom to choose doctors and other health care professionals, facilities, and services, and eliminates the role of insurance companies in health care by creating an insurance trust fund that is publicly administered?"

Question 6 asks, "Shall the representative from this district be instructed to vote in favor of changes to the applicable House of Representative rules to make each legislator's vote in that body's Legislative committees publicly available on the legislature's website?"

The Third Norfolk District includes all of Ward 2, Precinct 5 in Ward 4 and Precinct 1A in Ward 5 in Quincy. It also includes parts of Weymouth and Hallowell.

The Second Norfolk District is wholly within Quincy. It includes all of Ward 1; Precincts 1 and 2 in Ward 3; Precincts 2 and 4 in Ward 4; and all of Ward 5, save for Precinct 1A.

The First Norfolk District includes all of Ward 6 as well as Precincts 3-5 in Ward 3 and Precincts 1 and 3 of Ward 4 in Quincy. It also includes part of Randolph.

This year's ballot is two pages long, with candidates and questions appearing on the front and back of each page.

Ballot Questions

QUESTION 1: PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Do you approve of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution summarized below, which was approved by the General Court in joint sessions of the two houses on June 12, 2019 (yeas 147 – nays 48); and again on June 9, 2021 (yeas 159 – nays 41)?

SUMMARY

This proposed constitutional amendment would establish an additional 4% state income tax on that portion of annual taxable income in excess of $1 million. This income level would be adjusted annually, by the same method used for federal income-tax brackets, to reflect increases in the cost of living. Revenues from this tax would be used, subject to appropriation by the state Legislature, for public education, public colleges and universities; and for the repair and maintenance of roads, bridges, and public transportation. The proposed amendment would apply to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

A YES VOTE would amend the state Constitution to impose an additional 4% tax on that portion of incomes over one million dollars to be used, subject to appropriation by the state Legislature, on education and transportation.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the state Constitution relative to income tax.

QUESTION 2: LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 3, 2022?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would direct the Commissioner of the Massachusetts Division of Insurance to approve or disapprove the rates of dental benefit plans and would require that a dental insurance carrier meet an annual aggregate medical loss ratio for its covered dental benefit plans of 83 percent. The medical loss ratio would measure the amount of premium dollars a dental insurance carrier spends on its members' dental expenses and quality improvements, as opposed to administrative expenses. If a carrier's annual aggregate medical loss ratio is less than 83 percent, the carrier would be required to refund the excess premiums to its covered individuals and groups. The proposed law would allow the Commissioner to waive or adjust the refunds only if it is determined that issuing refunds would result in financial impairment for the carrier.

The proposed law would apply to dental benefit plans regardless of whether they are issued directly by a carrier, through the connector, or through an intermediary. The proposed law would not apply to dental benefit plans issued, delivered, or renewed to a self-insured group or where the carrier is acting as a third-party administrator.

The proposed law would require the carriers offering dental benefit plans to submit information about their current and projected medical loss ratio, administrative expenses, and other financial information to the Commissioner. Each carrier would be required to submit an annual comprehensive financial statement to the Division of Insurance, itemized by market group size and line of business. A carrier that also provides administrative services to one or more self-insured groups would also be required to file an appendix to their annual financial statement with information about its self-insured business. The proposed law would impose a late penalty on a carrier that does not file its annual report on or before April 1.

The Division would be required to make the submitted data public, to issue an annual summary to certain legislative committees, and to exchange the data with the Health Policy Commission. The Commissioner would be required to adopt standards requiring the registration of persons or entities not otherwise licensed or registered by the Commissioner and criteria for the standardized reporting and uniform allocation methodologies among carriers.

The proposed law would allow the Commissioner to approve dental benefit policies for the purpose of being offered to individuals or groups. The Commissioner would be required to adopt regulations to determine eligibility criteria.

The proposed law would require carriers to file group product base rates and any changes to group rating factors that are to be effective on January 1 of each year on or before July 1 of the preceding year. The Commissioner would be required to disapprove any proposed changes to base rates that are excessive, inadequate, or unreasonable in relation to the benefits charged. The Commissioner would also be required to disapprove any change to group rating factors that is discriminatory or not actuarially sound.

The proposed law sets forth criteria that, if met, would require the Commissioner to presumptively disapprove a carrier's rate, including if the aggregate medical loss ratio for all dental benefit plans offered by a carrier is less than 83 percent.

The proposed law would establish procedures to be followed if a proposed rate is presumptively disapproved or if the Commissioner disapproves a rate.

The proposed law would require the Division to hold a hearing if a carrier reports a risk-based capital ratio on a combined entity basis that exceeds 700 percent in its annual report.

The proposed law would require the Commissioner to promulgate regulations consistent with its provisions by October 1, 2023. The proposed law would apply to all dental benefit plans issued, made effective, delivered, or renewed on or after January 1, 2024.

A YES VOTE would regulate dental insurance rates, including by requiring companies to spend at least 83% of premiums on member dental expenses and quality improvements instead of administrative expenses, and by making other changes to dental insurance regulations.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the law relative to the regulations that apply to dental insurance companies.

Ballot Questions: #3, #4, #5, #6

QUESTION 3: LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 3, 2022?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would increase the statewide limits on the combined number of licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption (including licenses for "all alcoholic beverages" and for "wines and malt beverages") that any one retailer could own or control: from 9 to 12 licenses in 2023; to 15 licenses in 2027; and to 18 licenses in 2031.

Beginning in 2023, the proposed law would set a maximum number of "all alcoholic beverages" licenses that any one retailer could own or control at 7 licenses unless a retailer currently holds more than 7 such licenses.

The proposed law would require retailers to conduct the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption through face-to-face transactions and would prohibit automated or self-checkout sales of alcoholic beverages by such retailers.

The proposed law would alter the calculation of the fine that the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission may accept in lieu of suspending any license issued under the State Liquor Control Act. The proposed law would modify the formula for calculating such fee from being based on the gross profits on the sale of alcoholic beverages to being based on the gross profits on all retail sales.

The proposed law would also add out-of-state motor vehicle licenses to the list of the forms of identification that any holder of a license issued under the State Liquor Control Act, or their agent or employee, may choose to reasonably rely on for proof of a person's identity and age.

A YES VOTE would increase the number of licenses a retailer could have for the sale of alcoholic beverages to be consumed off premises, limit the number of "all-alcoholic beverages" licenses that a retailer could acquire, restrict use of self-checkout, and require retailers to accept customers' out-of-state identification.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the laws governing the retail sale of alcoholic beverages.

QUESTION 4: REFERENDUM ON AN EXISTING LAW

Do you approve of a law summarized below, which was approved by the House of Representatives and the Senate on May 26, 2022?

SUMMARY

This law allows Massachusetts residents who cannot provide proof of lawful presence in the United States to obtain a standard driver's license or learner's permit if they meet all the other qualifications for a standard license or learner's permit, including a road test and insurance, and provide proof of their identity, date of birth, and residency. The law provides that, when processing an application for such a license or learner's permit or motor vehicle registration, the registrar of motor vehicles may not ask about or create a record of the citizenship or immigration status of the applicant, except as otherwise required by law. This law does not allow people who cannot provide proof of lawful presence in the United States to obtain a REAL ID.

To prove identity and date of birth, the law requires an applicant to present at least two documents, one from each of the following categories: (1) a valid unexpired foreign passport or a valid unexpired Consular Identification document; and (2) a valid unexpired driver's license from any United States state or territory, an original or certified copy of a birth certificate, a valid unexpired foreign national identification card, a valid unexpired foreign driver's license, or a marriage certificate or divorce decree issued by any state or territory of the United States. One of the documents presented by an applicant must include a photograph and one must include a date of birth. Any documents not in English must be accompanied by a certified translation. The registrar may review any documents issued by another country to determine whether they may be used as proof of identity or date of birth.

The law requires that applicants for a driver's license or learner's permit shall attest, under the pains and penalties of perjury, that their license has not been suspended or revoked in any other state, country, or jurisdiction.

The law specifies that information provided by or relating to any applicant or license-holder will not be a public record and shall not be disclosed, except as required by federal law or as authorized by Attorney General regulations, and except for purposes of motor vehicle insurance.

The law directs the registrar of motor vehicles to make regulations regarding the documents required of United States citizens and others who provide proof of lawful presence with their license application.

The law also requires the registrar and the Secretary of the Commonwealth to establish procedures and regulations to ensure that an applicant for a standard driver's license or learner's permit who does not provide proof of lawful presence will not be automatically registered to vote.

The law takes effect on July 1, 2023.

A YES VOTE would keep in place the law, which would allow Massachusetts residents who cannot provide proof of lawful presence in the United States to obtain a driver's license or permit if they meet the other requirements for doing so.

A NO VOTE would repeal this law.

QUESTION 5 THIS QUESTION IS NOT BINDING

Shall the representative for this district be instructed to vote for legislation to create a single payer system of universal health care that provides all Massachusetts residents with comprehensive health care coverage including the freedom to choose doctors and other health care professionals, facilities, and services, and eliminates the role of insurance companies in health care by creating an insurance trust fund that is publicly administered?

YES ☐ NO ☐

QUESTION 6 THIS QUESTION IS NOT BINDING

問題 2：透過主動請願提議的法律

您是否贊成以下概述的法律，但參議院及眾議院在 2022 年 5 月 3 日或之前未對其進行投票？

概要

YES/贊成

NO/反對

這項擬議的法律將指導麻薩諸塞州保險司司長批准或否決牙科福利計劃的費用，並且將要求牙科保險公司滿足其承保的牙科福利計劃的年度總醫療損失率達到 83%。醫療損失率將衡量牙科保險公司在其成員的牙科費用和品質改進上花費的保費金額，而不是管理費用。如果保險公司的年度總醫療損失率低於 83%，則保險公司須向其承保的個人和團體退還超額保費。擬議的法律將允許司長僅在確定發出退款會對保險公司造成財務損失的情況下才可豁免或調整退款。

擬議的法律將適用於牙科福利計劃，無論計劃是由保險公司直接發出、透過聯絡機構、還是透過中介發出。擬議的法律不適用於向自保團體發出、提供或續保的牙科福利計劃，或保險公司作為第三方管理人的情況。

擬議的法律將要求提供牙科福利計劃的保險公司向司長提交有關其當前和預計的醫療損失率的資訊、管理費用和其他財務資訊。每個保險公司都須向保險司提交年度綜合財務報表，按市場團體規模和業務範圍逐項列出。同時向一個或多個自保團體提供管理服務的保險公司還須提交年度財務報表的附錄，載明關於其自保業務的資訊。擬議的法律將對未在 4 月 1 日或之前提交年度報告的保險公司處以逾期罰款。

保險司須公開提交的資料，向某些立法委員會發佈年度概要，並與衛生政策委員會（Health Policy Commission）交流資料。司長須採用標準，要求對未以其他方式經司長許可或登記的個人或實體進行登記，以及在保險公司之間採用標準化報告和統一分配方法的標準。

擬議的法律將允許司長批准牙科福利保單，以便提供給個人或團體。司長須採用各項法規，以確定資格標準。

擬議的法律將要求保險公司提交團體產品基本費用，以及於每年 1 月 1 日或前一年的 7 月 1 日或之前生效的團體評級因素的任何變更。如果針對福利所收取的基本費用擬議進行任何變更，而此變更過高、不適當或不合理，司長須予以否決。如果對團體評級因素的任何變更更具歧視性或在精算上不合理，司長也須予以否決。

擬議的法律規定了各項標準，如果符合標準，司長需要推定否決保險公司的費用，包括保險公司提供的所有牙科福利計劃的總醫療損失率低於 83% 的情況。

如果擬議的費用被推定否決或司長否決費用，擬議的法律將設立應遵循的程序。

QUESTION 3 / 問題 3

LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 3, 2022?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would increase the statewide limits on the combined number of licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption (including licenses for "all alcoholic beverages" and for "wines and malt beverages") that any one retailer could own or control: from 9 to 12 licenses in 2023; to 15 licenses in 2027; and to 18 licenses in 2031.

Beginning in 2023, the proposed law would set a maximum number of "all alcoholic beverages" licenses that any one retailer could own or control at 7 licenses unless a retailer currently holds more than 7 such licenses.

The proposed law would require retailers to conduct the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption through face-to-face transactions and would prohibit automated or self-checkout sales of alcoholic beverages by such retailers.

The proposed law would alter the calculation of the fine that the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission may accept in lieu of suspending any license issued under the State Liquor Control Act. The proposed law would modify the formula for calculating such fee from being based on the gross profits on the sale of alcoholic beverages to being based on the gross profits on all retail sales.

The proposed law would also add out-of-state motor vehicle licenses to the list of the forms of identification that any holder of a license issued under the State Liquor Control Act, or their agent or employee, may choose to reasonably rely on for proof of a person's identity and age.

A YES VOTE would increase the number of licenses a retailer could have for the sale of alcoholic beverages to be consumed off premises, limit the number of "all-alcoholic beverages" licenses that a retailer could acquire, restrict use of self-checkout, and require retailers to accept customers' out-of-state identification.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the laws governing the retail sale of alcoholic beverages.

QUESTION 2 / CÂU HỎI 2 LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

Do you approve of a law summarized below, on which no vote was taken by the Senate or the House of Representatives on or before May 3, 2022?

SUMMARY

This proposed law would direct the Commissioner of the Massachusetts Division of Insurance to approve or disapprove the rates of dental benefit plans and would require that a dental insurance carrier meet an annual aggregate medical loss ratio for its covered dental benefit plans of 83 percent. The medical loss ratio would measure the amount of premium dollars a dental insurance carrier spends on its members' dental expenses and quality improvements, as opposed to administrative expenses. If a carrier's annual aggregate medical loss ratio is less than 83 percent, the carrier would be required to refund the excess premiums to its covered individuals and groups. The proposed law would allow the Commissioner to waive or adjust the refunds only if it is determined that issuing refunds would result in financial impairment for the carrier.

The proposed law would apply to dental benefit plans regardless of whether they are issued directly by a carrier, through the connector, or through an intermediary. The proposed law would not apply to dental benefit plans issued, delivered, or renewed to a self-insured group or where the carrier is acting as a third-party administrator.

The proposed law would require the carriers offering dental benefit plans to submit information about their current and projected medical loss ratio, administrative expenses, and other financial information to the Commissioner. Each carrier would be required to submit an annual comprehensive financial statement to the Division of Insurance, itemized by market group size and line of business. A carrier that also provides administrative services to one or more self-insured groups would also be required to file an appendix to their annual financial statement with information about its self-insured business. The proposed law would impose a late penalty on a carrier that does not file its annual report on or before April 1.

The Division would be required to make the submitted data public, to issue an annual summary to certain legislative committees, and to exchange the data with the Health Policy Commission. The Commissioner would be required to adopt standards requiring the registration of persons or entities not otherwise licensed or registered by the Commissioner and criteria for the standardized reporting and uniform allocation methodologies among carriers.

The proposed law would allow the Commissioner to approve dental benefit policies for the purpose of being offered to individuals or groups. The Commissioner would be required to adopt regulations to determine eligibility criteria.

The proposed law would require carriers to file group product base rates and any changes to group rating factors that are to be effective on January 1 of each year on or before July 1 of the preceding year. The Commissioner would be required to disapprove any proposed changes to base rates that are excessive, inadequate, or unreasonable in relation to the benefits charged. The Commissioner would also be required to disapprove any change to group rating factors that is discriminatory or not actuarially sound.

The proposed law sets forth criteria that, if met, would require the Commissioner to presumptively disapprove a carrier's rate, including if the aggregate medical loss ratio for all dental benefit plans offered by a carrier is less than 83 percent.

The proposed law would establish procedures to be followed if a proposed rate is presumptively disapproved or if the Commissioner disapproves a rate.

The proposed law would require the Division to hold a hearing if a carrier reports a risk-based capital ratio on a combined entity basis that exceeds 700 percent in its annual report.

The proposed law would require the Commissioner to promulgate regulations consistent with its provisions by October 1, 2023. The proposed law would apply to all dental benefit plans issued, made effective, delivered, or renewed on or after January 1, 2024.

A YES VOTE would regulate dental insurance rates, including by requiring companies to spend at least 83% of premiums on member dental expenses and quality improvements instead of administrative expenses, and by making other changes to dental insurance regulations.

A NO VOTE would make no change in the law relative to the regulations that apply to dental insurance companies.

TÓM TẮT

Luật được đề xuất này sẽ chỉ dẫn Ủy Viên Bộ Phận Bảo Hiểm (Division of Insurance) của Massachusetts phê duyệt hoặc không phê duyệt các mức giá của chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa và sẽ yêu cầu hãng bảo hiểm nha khoa đáp ứng tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế tổng hợp hàng năm cho các chương trình quyền lợi nha khoa mà hãng đại thọ ở mức 83%. Tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế sẽ đo lường khoản tiền phí bảo hiểm mà hãng bảo hiểm nha khoa chi trả cho các chi phí nha khoa của hội viên và cải thiện chất lượng, thay vì chi trả cho chi phí hành chính. Nếu tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế tổng hợp hàng năm của hãng bảo hiểm thấp hơn 83%, hãng bảo hiểm sẽ được yêu cầu hoàn lại khoản tiền bảo hiểm vượt mức cho những cá nhân hoặc nhóm được hãng bảo hiểm. Luật được đề xuất cho phép Ủy Viên loại bỏ hoặc điều chỉnh khoản tiền hoàn lại chỉ khi xác định được rằng việc thực hiện hoàn tiền sẽ khiến hãng bảo hiểm bị suy giảm tài chính.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ áp dụng cho các chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa bất kể chương trình được phát hành trực tiếp bởi tổ xếp hạng nhóm, thông qua bên liên kết hoặc thông qua bên trung gian. Luật được đề xuất sẽ không áp dụng cho các chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa được phát hành, chuyển giao, hoặc gia hạn cho một nhóm tự bảo hiểm hoặc khi hãng bảo hiểm đóng vai trò quản trị viên bên thứ ba.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ yêu cầu các hãng bảo hiểm có cung cấp chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa gửi thông tin về tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế hiện tại và dự kiến, chi phí hành chính và các thông tin tài chính khác của hãng cho Ủy Viên. Mỗi hãng bảo hiểm sẽ được yêu cầu nộp báo cáo tài chính hàng năm cho Bộ Phận Bảo Hiểm, ghi chi tiết từng khoản theo quy mô nhóm thị trường và ngành nghề kinh doanh. Hãng bảo hiểm có cung cấp các dịch vụ hành chính cho một hoặc nhiều nhóm tự bảo hiểm cũng được yêu cầu nộp phụ lục của báo cáo tài chính hàng năm với thông tin về hoạt động kinh doanh tự bảo hiểm của hãng. Luật được đề xuất sẽ đặt ra một khoản phạt tạt hạn cho hãng bảo hiểm không nộp báo cáo hàng năm vào hoặc trước ngày 1 tháng 4.

Bộ Phận Bảo Hiểm sẽ được yêu cầu công khai dữ liệu được nộp để ban hành bản tóm tắt hàng năm cho một số ủy ban lập pháp cụ thể và để trao đổi dữ liệu với Ủy Ban Chính Sách Y Tế. Ủy Viên sẽ được yêu cầu thông qua các tiêu chuẩn yêu cầu đăng ký của những người hoặc tổ chức không được Ủy Viên cấp phép hoặc đăng ký và tiêu chí dành cho việc báo cáo được tiêu chuẩn hóa và phương pháp phân bổ thống nhất giữa các hãng bảo hiểm.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ cho phép Ủy Viên phê duyệt các chính sách quyền lợi nha khoa với mục đích cung cấp bảo hiểm cho cá nhân hoặc nhóm. Ủy Viên sẽ được yêu cầu thông qua các quy định để xác định tiêu chí hội đủ điều kiện.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ yêu cầu các hãng bảo hiểm nộp các mức giá cơ bản cho nhóm sản phẩm và bất kỳ thay đổi nào đối với yếu tố xếp hạng nhóm sẽ có hiệu lực vào ngày 1 tháng 1 hàng năm vào hoặc trước ngày 1 tháng 7 của năm trước đó. Ủy Viên sẽ được yêu cầu từ chối mọi thay đổi được đề xuất đối với các mức giá cơ bản nếu tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế tổng hợp hàng năm của hãng tương xứng hoặc không hợp lý liên quan đến các quyền lợi được tính. Ủy Viên cũng sẽ được yêu cầu từ chối mọi thay đổi đối với các yếu tố xếp hạng nhóm mang tính phân biệt đối xử hoặc không hợp lý.

Luật được đề xuất đưa ra các tiêu chí, mà nếu được đáp ứng, sẽ yêu cầu Ủy Viên giả định từ chối mức giá của hãng bảo hiểm, bao gồm nếu tỷ lệ tổn thất y tế tổng hợp của tất cả các chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa được hãng bảo hiểm cung cấp thấp hơn 83%.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ thiết lập các quy trình phải tuân thủ nếu mức giá được đề xuất bị giả định từ chối hoặc nếu Ủy Viên từ chối mức giá.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ yêu cầu Bộ Phận Bảo Hiểm tổ chức một cuộc điều tra nếu hãng bảo hiểm báo cáo tỷ lệ vốn dựa trên rủi ro trên cơ sở là tổ chức kết hợp vượt quá 700% trong báo cáo hàng năm của hãng.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ yêu cầu Ủy Viên ban hành các quy định phù hợp với các điều khoản của luật trước ngày 1 tháng 10 năm 2023. Luật được đề xuất sẽ áp dụng cho tất cả các chương trình bảo hiểm quyền lợi nha khoa được phát hành, có hiệu lực, chuyển giao, hoặc gia hạn vào hoặc sau ngày 1 tháng 1 năm 2024.

LÁ PHIẾU ĐỒNG Ý sẽ quy định mức giá bảo hiểm nha khoa, bằng cách yêu cầu các công ty chi ít nhất 83% phí bảo hiểm cho chi phí nha khoa của hội viên và cải thiện chất lượng thay vì chi phí hành chính, đồng thời đưa ra các thay đổi khác đối với quy định bảo hiểm nha khoa.

LÁ PHIẾU PHẢN ĐỐI sẽ không làm thay đổi luật liên quan đến các quy định áp dụng cho các công ty bảo hiểm nha khoa.

Luật được đề xuất này sẽ nâng giới hạn của tiểu bang về số giấy phép kết hợp để bán đồ uống có cồn mang về nhà (bao gồm giấy phép dành cho "tất cả các đồ uống có cồn" và "rượu vang và đồ uống có mạch nha") mà mọi nhà bán lẻ có thể sở hữu hoặc kiểm soát: từ 9 lên 12 giấy phép vào năm 2023; lên 15 giấy phép vào năm 2027; và lên 18 giấy phép vào năm 2031.

Bắt đầu từ năm 2023, luật được đề xuất sẽ quy định số giấy phép bán "tất cả đồ uống có cồn" tối đa mà một nhà bán lẻ có thể sở hữu hoặc kiểm soát là 7 giấy phép trừ khi nhà bán lẻ hiện đã có hơn 7 giấy phép như vậy.

Luật được đề xuất sẽ yêu cầu các nhà bán lẻ thực hiện việc bán đồ uống có cồn mang về nhà thông qua giao dịch trực tiếp và sẽ cấm những nhà bán lẻ này bán đồ uống có cồn tự động hoặc tự thanh toán.

Luật được đề xuất cũng sẽ bổ sung giấy phép điều khiển xe cơ giới ngoài tiểu bang vào danh sách các giấy tờ tùy thân mà những người sở hữu giấy phép được cấp theo Đạo Luật Kiểm Soát Bia Rượu Của Tiểu Bang, hoặc đại lý hay nhân viên của họ, có thể chọn để làm bằng chứng hợp lý về danh tính và tuổi của một người.

LÀ PHIẾU ĐỒNG Ý sẽ gia tăng số lượng giấy phép một nhà bán lẻ có thể sở hữu để bán đồ uống có cồn mang về nhà, giới hạn số lượng giấy phép "tất cả đồ uống có cồn" mà một nhà bán lẻ có thể được cấp, giới hạn việc sử dụng hình thức tự thanh toán, và yêu cầu nhà bán lẻ chấp nhận giấy tờ tùy thân ngoài tiểu bang của khách hàng.

Fabric Window Treatments: Handsome And Hardworking

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

Window treatments are one of the hardest working decorative elements in a room.

When choosing window treatments, first bear in mind the architecture of the room and the window in conjunction with your decorating style. If formal, you'll want two or three fabric layers with sheers underneath, curtains or drapes, and a topper like a swag, valance, cornice, or scarf. A more casual or informal look requires less layers with café-style or simple cotton, chintz, ticking, toile, gingham, or muslin panels. In a transitional room, try Roman or balloon shades, scarves, swags, valances, in striped, plaid, or florals designs.

Second, determine their function in the room. In addition to privacy and light and climate control, they can hide an unattractive view, soften the hard edges of a room, or even create a focal point in your space. Also consider the room's orientation; you will want sun-blocking, lined fabrics in south-facing rooms to prevent rugs and furniture fabrics from fading. If you have a beautiful view of an ocean or garden, hang curtains to get the fullest view.

Third, consider the size of the window. To create the illusion of a taller window (or ceiling height), hang the hardware and fabric treatments high - as much as six inches above the window frame or even near the ceiling. Similarly, hang drapes and curtains beside the casements to make the window appear wider and to allow more light to enter. To de-emphasize an extra-large window or slider, use simpler window treatments.

Finally, budget wisely. Consider ready-made curtains or drapes versus custom treatments which may include professional measuring and installation charges. Don't overlook hardware costs, which can be pricey (but rods and accessories last a lifetime). Think about future expenses, too, if dry cleaning is required.

Now on to patterns in draperies and curtains. Use a small print, solid, or textured fabric in a small room because too much pattern can make the room seem too busy. Larger rooms can handle more color and pattern. Vertical stripes make a room seem taller and horizontal stripes make a window seem wider. A contrasting lining always brings a designer look as do bands of accent fabric along the inside edge or bottom of the panel.

Finally, sew some drapery weights (or even a washer from the hardware store) or a piece of wire into the bottom of your fabric treatments so they hang properly and, for a designer look, add some couture-inspired extras like trims, tassels, buttons, and bows.

Don't skip or skimp on window treatments - it's like putting on that little black dress without a beautiful necklace or scarf. Add the attitude; dodge the dull.

Adams Academy Triple Anniversary Celebration Nov. 18. Features Open House, Reception

Quincy Historical Society and the City of Quincy will hold a public open house and reception at the Adams Academy on Friday, Nov. 18, from 4 to 7 p.m. to celebrate the Adams Academy's 150th anniversary.

The year 2022 is a significant year for the Adams Academy and, in fact, marks a triple anniversary. The Academy opened its doors, as a boys' preparatory school, in fall, 1872. After the Academy school closed and the building spent several decades housing various city functions, the building became the home of Quincy Historical Society in 1972, making this the 50th anniversary of the Society's stewardship of the Academy. And 200 years ago, President John Adams deeded the tracts of land to the town of Quincy, including the property on which the Academy stands, for the purpose of "a school teaching . . . the Latin and Greek languages and any other languages, arts and sciences."

The event on Nov. 18 will recognize all three anniversaries. There will be refreshments, music, raffles, and a chance to rediscover the architectural genius of the National-Landmark Academy and reconnect with Society's historical exhibits.

All are welcome. There is no charge for admission.

Social Security Matters

Why Don't I Get Annual Cost Of Living Adjustments (COLA)?

By RUSSELL GLOOR

National Social Security Advisor at the AMAC Foundation, The Non-Profit Arm of the Association of Mature American Citizens

Dear Rusty: I get a NET amount of $210 from Social Security plus get an alimony check of $1,400. Other people I know get a COLA increase every year, but I was told I am not eligible? But no reason was given. Why am I not eligible? Signed: Struggling Senior

Dear Struggling Senior: Everyone who collects Social Security receives the annual Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA), so whoever told you that you aren't eligible for a COLA increase was incorrect. However, keep in mind that COLA is applied to your gross Social Security payment, not your net payment. One thing which can happen, especially to those whose Social Security payment is small, is that an increase to the Medicare Part B premium may consume your COLA increase. Here's an example of how that might occur:

You say your NET Social Security amount is $210. Assuming you are enrolled in Medicare, your gross Social Security payment (before the Medicare Part B premium is deducted) is probably about $380. The COLA increase for 2022 was 5.9%, which would increase your gross Social Security payment from about $380 to about $402, an increase of about $22. However, the 2022 Medicare Part B premium also increased by nearly $22 and, since your Medicare premium is deducted from your Social Security benefit, your NET Social Security payment wouldn't change. I suspect this is why you didn't see the Cost of Living Adjustment in your Social Security payment - an increase to your Medicare Part B premium most likely offset all of your COLA increase.

I know (and agree) this seems unfair, but inflation has also affected healthcare costs in general and Medicare premiums in particular, and a Medicare premium increase unfortunately offsets at least some of, and sometimes all of, the annual COLA received by all Social Security beneficiaries. I suspect the above, or some variation of it, is why you are not seeing a COLA increase in your net Social Security payment. Rest assured, however, that you ARE receiving an annual COLA increase to your gross Social Security amount - every recipient of Social Security receives each COLA increase granted.

Quincy College Earns Certification For Online Class Quality

Quincy College is the first institution of higher learning in Massachusetts to have an online course officially certified by Quality Matters (QM) as high-quality.

QM is an international organization whose rigorous, faculty-centered, peer-review process assures the quality of fully online, blended online and hybrid courses.

The course - EDU222/Children with Special Needs - is taught by Dr. Becky DelVecchio, who worked in collaboration with Dr. Lisa Desruisseaux, the college's associate vice president of Online Learning and Dr. Judy Somers, one of the college's instructional designers, to design and build the course for intensive QM review. Dr. DelVecchio has spent 25 years in the field of Early Childhood Education and has taught a range of courses in a variety of settings during her tenure as adjunct faculty, teacher, and preschool director.

"Earning CM certification is a point of pride for Quincy College and puts us at the forefront of high quality online teaching and learning," said Dr. Richard DeCristofaro, president of Quincy College. "In the coming months we will be submitting additional courses across the academic curriculum for QM approval, further demonstrating our commitment to providing the best possible learning experience for those who choose to study online."

In the past 20 years, more than 1,500 colleges and universities throughout the world have joined the Quality Matters community to improve online course design and more than 60,000 education professionals have been trained in online course design standards. At Quincy College, all faculty members must complete online training, which includes a QM workshop focused on high-quality course design.

Under Dr. Desruisseaux's leadership, Quincy College's Learning Innovation Hub supports online teaching and learning by blending technology and innovation through ongoing faculty professional development and student support. "The Hub" collaborates with College faculty in the use of contemporary tools for learning opportunities that meet the needs of all learners via Universal Design for Learning (UDL), and takes pride in engaging the College community in exploring new thinking, asking new questions, and pushing beyond the realm of "learning as usual."

On Wednesday, Oct. 12, at approximately 07:32 a.m., Officer Burgio radioed to communications that there was an active disorder at Dunkin Donuts on Southern Artery. Multiple units, including Officer Callahan, responded to assist.

Officer Burgio updated officers that the suspect was a black male wearing all black clothing that fled northbound on Brackett Street. Responding units searched the area for a male matching the description.

Officer Callahan met Officer Burgio and the victim in the parking lot at the Dunkin Donuts. The victim stated he does not know the suspect, but had a small verbal argument with him in the same Dunkin Donuts parking lot last week. Both parties went their separate ways at that time.

The victim stated that today he was in line waiting to get a coffee when the same male from last week yelled to him "Do you remember me, I was that a##$%^& from last week. Come up here and buy my coffee." The two of them started to argue back and forth when the male threw his hot coffee hitting the victim in the face. Officer Callahan observed redness to the left side of his face, as well redness to his left eye. The victim stated that it was hard to open his left eye from the accident. Brewster Ambulance arrived on scene to evaluate the victim.

Officer Callahan proceeded into the Dunkin Donuts to speak with manager, who was a witness to the disorder. The manager stated he was working the register when the two males began to argue. He stated that the suspect started to give the victim a hard time, and that the victim was "just not having it." Both the males started to yell back and forth at each other. The black male (suspect) took his extra-large hot coffee and threw it at the victim. The manager pointed to the front window that was also covered with coffee. He stated that everything should have been caught on the camera and that he would try to pull the footage.

Officer Burgio, who was still in the parking lot, told Officer Callahan that the male suspect fled leaving his son behind. The child's mother arrived on scene and instructed her son to get into the car and not to provide any information. Officer Callahan asked the mother for her information, but she refused to identify herself. Officer Burgio took note of her license plate, and was able to identify the son based on the registered owner's information. The suspect's vehicle was also left on scene.

Within a short period of time, Officer Koch located the male suspect on Brackett Street. The male proceeded to walk behind Brookdale Senior Living apartments (99 Brackett St.) to the back parking lot. Officer Koch instructed the male to stop multiple times, but he kept walking away, refusing to speak with officers. The male suspect finally stopped and officers detained him. Sgt. Greene drove the victim to the location where the suspect was stopped. The victim was able to positively identify the male as the suspect from the Dunkin Donuts.

The 42-year-old male from Quincy was placed under arrest and transported to the Quincy Police Station where he was booked for assault & battery with a dangerous weapon (hot coffee). A 51A (mandated report of suspected child abuse or neglect) was filed with the Department of Children & Families.

Great work!

MSBA To Reimburse City For Portion Of Three School Projects

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Massachusetts School Building Authority this past week allowed the city of Quincy to move forward with planned improvements to three elementary schools, with the work at each of the buildings set to take place next summer.

The MSBA board on Oct. 26 voted to invite the school district into the accelerated repair program for improvements at the Parker, Montclair and Wollaston elementary schools.

At that evening's meeting of the Quincy School Committee, Supt. Kevin Mulvey said those projects would entail roof replacement and repair at Montclair and Wollaston and boiler replacement at Parker. The MSBA will reimburse the city for a portion of those project costs.

"Thanks to Mayor Koch and the Quincy state delegation for their support in securing this project funding and of course the School Committee and City Council for supporting and filling a statement of interest for these projects," Mulvey said.

Moving forward, the city will meet with the owner's project manager for the improvements and begin schematic design, Mulvey said.

"We're looking forward to doing this work during the summer of 2023," he added.

In an interview prior to the committee meeting, Koch welcomed the MS-

BA's vote.

"That's great news," he said. "I don't know what the reimbursement rate is yet... it changes on every project, so we haven't gotten it yet."

"It's good news, absolutely. These are all buildings that you've got to continue to maintain."

The Montclair Elementary School was built in 1912, the Wollaston Elementary School in 1913 and the Parker Elementary School in 1916. Despite each of them being more than a century old, Koch said they remain in great shape.

"What I always find interesting is the old-time buildings were built so darn well that you can do a roof, you can do windows, do a boiler, and the building is still terrific," he said. "Some of those buildings that were built a little later just aren't the same quality."

Go Beyond The Traditional With Unique Amaryllis Varieties

By MELINDA MYERS

Boost your spirits and winter décor with new shapes and colors of amaryllis. Today there are many beautiful options beyond the traditional red.

Double amaryllis have jumbo flowers with multiple layers of petals. Kick off the season with the early-blooming variety Alaska. Its frilly white petals contrast nicely with the lime green throat and the flowers last for weeks. Early blooming amaryllis are grown in the southern hemisphere and, if planted by early November, they bloom in time for holiday decorating and gift-giving.

Extend amaryllis season with doubles that are grown in the northern hemisphere. Start these amaryllis bulbs any time before January for flowers in mid to late winter. Sweet Nymph has layers of creamy white petals that are decorated with coral pink stripes. The blossoms add romantic charm to any setting. The extra-large flowers of Giant Amadeus change colors as they go from bud to mature bloom. The blossoms start out mostly white with a fine red outline. The color of the petals gradually intensifies to blushing pink, rose, and coral.

Doublet is another stunning winter-blooming double. Its flowers feature narrow petals in a variety of widths, all with red and white candy cane stripes. You can expect two or three flower stalks from each bulb and as many as a dozen flowers. For more subtle beauty, consider double amaryllis Elvas with white petals outlined in red.

New varieties of single amaryllis can be equally dramatic. Opal Star is an early bloomer with slightly longer and narrower petals than most. Its muted, pale red flowers feature a chartreuse and white star in the center that extends to the tips of the petals. Cape Horn has broad, rose-pink petals and a white star. Remember to plant these early-blooming amaryllis in the fall so you can share living bouquets for the holidays.

Keep the flowers coming with varieties that bloom in January and February. Terra Cotta Star is sure to attract attention with its striking colors and exquisite details. The salmon, rose, buttercream and pistachio petals have dark red veining that makes each blossom a standout. Yellow Star is another unique variety with elegant ivory and lime green flowers that are sure to lift your spirits. Rosy Star's exquisite flowers feature snowy white petals and a rose-pink blush.

Don't underestimate red amaryllis as there are many exciting variations to choose from. Charisma is an early-blooming single with petals that display an ombre effect of red and white. Ger-vase and Flamenco Queen are later blooming singles with a similar fade on their petals. For extra bold red and white flowers, consider single amaryllis Spartacus or Minerva, and the double variety Splash.

Order your amaryllis bulbs early for the best selection. When the bulbs arrive, store them in a cool, dry dark place until you are ready to plant. After you pot up the bulbs, place them in a warm, bright location to encourage them to break dormancy. Once the first bud emerges, you can expect to have flowers in two to four weeks. Enjoy all the beauty that growing amaryllis (Longfield-Gardens.com) provides with only minimal care.

CHILDREN OF Interfaith Social Services' food pantry clients were able to select a free Halloween costume at their annual Halloween Costume Distribution Day on Oct. 15.

Volunteers Distribute Halloween Costumes

Superheroes, princesses and zombies were back at Interfaith Social Services last week, after a two-year hiatus due to the pandemic. The agency invited children served by their food pantry to a Halloween Costume Distribution event on Oct. 15. Each child was able to select a brand-new Halloween costume at no cost.

For local families having trouble putting food on the table, "extras" such as Halloween costumes can seem out of reach. Seasonal initiatives at Interfaith, like the Halloween distribution and Holiday Gift program, help ease these costs for South Shore families in need and bring joy to children in difficult situations.

Hamel-Lydon Chapel Hosts Lights Of Remembrance

Inaugural Event Held At The Tirrell Room; Dedicated To Loved Ones Lost Due To COVID

Hamel-Lydon Chapel & Cremation Service of Massachusetts (Hamel-Lydon) hosted their Inaugural Lights of Remembrance Oct. 13 at the Tirrell Room in Quincy.

Quincy Access Television Producer Joe Catalano was the evening's master of ceremonies and introduced Mayor Thomas P. Koch, who spoke at the event, as did area clergy and community leaders.

This year's Lights of Remembrance event was dedicated to those we have lost due to COVID-19 and will be an annual event presented by Hamel-Lydon.

Commenting on the pandemic's toll, Funeral Director Christopher Goulet, president of Hamel-Lydon, said, "Our hearts broke for all of the families who weren't able to be there with their loved ones during their final days and hours...so many had to say 'good-bye' over the telephone or with Facetime, and were unable to be together at life's most tenderest moment".

Michelle Lydon, funeral director and co-owner of Hamel-Lydon, lit a candle at the event and said, "We are thankful that love endures, even after death, and that our connection to our loved ones and the memories we shared will always be safe in our hearts."

Care Team members of Hamel-Lydon identified the need for a community remembrance event early on, when social distancing guidelines limited gatherings and public funeral services weren't possible. It was during these times Hamel-Lydon began planning for Lights of Remembrance so that there could be space for those who wished could come together and share in the commonality of their collective loss. Lights of Remembrance is a free event and open for all to attend.

HAMEL-LYDON CHAPEL & Cremation of Massachusetts held its inaugural Lights of Remembrance Oct. 13 at the Tirrell Room in Quincy. Here Decorated bags of loved ones lost during the pandemic are displayed at the event.

City Should Plant – Not Cut – Trees For Holiday Displays

Majestic evergreens glowing with string lights are a cozy symbol of the holidays. But they would be an even merrier and more hopeful symbol if they were planted where the City wants Christmas trees instead of being cut down and transported into place every year.

In the Oct. 13th Sun, the city offered to cut down large, healthy evergreens from people's yards for use in official holiday displays. The trees, it said, should be in "very good condition" and should measure 25 to 45 feet high – as tall as a three- or four-story building.

"Ideally," the city noted, the trees would have grown too big for their spaces, so that the residents would be removing them anyway. The City would pay for the trees to be cut down and hauled away, for the stumps to be ground down, and for the planting of replacement trees. And it would recognize tree donors in publicity materials and at tree-lighting events.

But why would the city offer incentives to cut down large, healthy trees in our era of climate disasters? Every year, a Norway spruce that is 10 inches wide at shoulder height removes about 55 pounds of climate-warming carbon dioxide gas from the atmosphere and prevents about 120 gallons of stormwater runoff, according to the estimation tool i-Tree.

Furthermore, why should taxpayers pay what probably amounts to a couple of thousand dollars to cut, move, and replace each holiday tree "every year", when it would cost about as much to plant a small tree that could then be decorated for free year after year?

And yes, this plan might mean that the city's Christmas trees would be on the smaller side for the first few years. But seeing the living trees decorated in place would send a message that the holidays are not about the biggest, blingiest new thing but about connections – to each other and to the planet we depend on. Families could take holiday pictures in front of the young trees and track their – and their children's – growth over the years. And that seems like a wonderful new tradition.

Quincy Point Congregational Church

Quincy Point Congregational Church welcomes a new section leader to the Chancel Choir.

Magdalen Chauby is a graduate student at New England Conservatory. She has a dual degree in music education and in vocal performance from Ithaca College. Maggi is an artistic associate with Guerilla Opera in Boston and has performed in operas in New York state and Massachusetts. In addition to her beautiful singing, she is friendly and delightful, and we are so happy to have her with us, joining our existing section leaders: Liz Milch, Matthew Coveney, and Ron Grabke.

QPCC Music Director Jeanne Lucas said: "One important reason we have staff section leaders in our church choir is to support the volunteer members of our choir. Having section leaders provides a strong framework and helps volunteers participate more fully in our music program. Whether you have lots of experience singing in choir or not, whether you read music or not, if you enjoy singing, we would love to have you in the choir. We meet at 9:15 before church and on Thursday evenings at 7:30. All are welcome. Check the church calendar for details or get in touch with sing.with.jeanne@gmail.com and let us know to include you in our choir-related communications."

es operates one of Greater Boston's largest emergency food pantries, a mental health counseling center, Thrift Shop and homelessness prevention program. Since 1947, Interfaith Social Services has been a safety net for thousands of children and families from the South Shore who are struggling to make ends meet.

Generous individuals and businesses donated hundreds of new Halloween costumes through In-terfaith's Halloween Drive. Interfaith would like to thank O'Connor & Drew, P.C., Have a Sammi Kinda Day, Dan Minton and the Quincy Police Department, Emergent BioSolutions and DanceWorks for running costume drives at their businesses and organizations. DPS Insurance Group donated a tent for the event and Stop & Shop donated hundreds of sugar pumpkins for the children to take home.

Crane Library Bookstore Celebrating 11th Anniversary Nov. 5 With Door Prizes

The Crane Library Bookstore celebrates its 11th year of bargain book-shopping in Quincy on Saturday, Nov. 5th from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. On this special day the store is awarding a Scrabble Game as a door prize once each hour to a lucky shopper.

About 13 years ago the idea of creating a used-books outlet was proposed to The Friends of the Crane Library Board of Directors, citing declining proceeds from the semi-annual, three-day book sales then being held in the library's Community Room.

Establishing a bookstore in the space which was the library's earliest Children's Room, at the rear of the library, was supported by a generous grant from Quincy's Community Preservation Fund. This cozy library space was renovated, redesigned and stocked with donated material and the proposal became a reality!

The bookstore has since become a local success and in most recent years, slightly de-railed by COVID, net proceeds have averaged approximately $15K annually in support of library programs not funded by the city, such as concerts, public lectures, museum passes, movies, how-to programs, and programs for children and teens at the main library and its branches.

Committee-member Eunice Charles oversees the all-volunteer staff of the shop.

"Our wonderful group of volunteers make the bookstore possible," Charles said. "Besides volunteers who sort and shelf donations, we have a group of some 30 people who come in monthly for one or more of our 3-hour shifts. Some of our volunteers have been helping since we've opened the store, while our newer volunteers quickly have become regulars."

One of the original ideamen in establishing the shop, committee-member Harold Crowley says, "The Crane Library Bookstore has provided a place where Quincy residents can share their love of books and other media by generously donating from their own book collection and by patronizing the bookstore."

The shop stocks a wide variety of current and classic DVD's, CD's from every musical genre, books on any subject, including audiobooks and special sections for books and media in Chinese. Christmas-themed items will be on display for the anniversary celebration also.

All goods are in gently-used condition and unless specially marked, hardcover books sell for $2, and paperbacks for $1. Children's books are priced even lower, as are mass-market paperback novels. DVDs and CDs are always buy-one-get-one-free for $1. Some obsolete materials are offered as giveaways.

The shop is open on Thursday evenings from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with private entrance in the rear of the historic Thomas Crane Public Library.

Gasoline Prices In Massachusetts Climb 19 Cents In One Week

The average gas price in Massachusetts is up 19 cents from last week ($3.58), averaging $3.77 per gallon. The combination of tight supplies and strong demand have driven prices locally to the highest point in eight weeks, according to AAA Northeast.

Monday's price is 26 cents higher than a month ago ($3.51), and 39 cents higher than Oct. 31, 2021 ($3.38). Massachusetts' average gas price is 1 cent higher than the national average.

"While prices continue to decrease in many regions of the country, lack of inventory and sustained demand here in the northeast are driving up our prices at the pump," said Mary Maguire, AAA Northeast vice president of Public and Government Affairs.

AAA Northeast's Oct. 31 survey of fuel prices found the current national average to be 3 cents lower than last week ($3.79), averaging $3.76 a gallon. Monday's national average price is 3 cents lower than a month ago ($3.79), and 36 cents higher than this day last year ($3.40).

NQ Volleyball Downs NDA, Posts 19-1 Regular Season

By TOM JOYCE

Sometimes it takes a comeback to keep a near-perfect regular season record going.

That's what the North Quincy High girls' volleyball team did last Friday night.

Although the Raiders faced some trouble early in the fourth set, they were able to come back on the road against Notre Dame Academy. The Raiders won the contest 3-2 to finish the regular season at 19-1.

"This was the exact type of game we needed going into the playoffs," Raiders head coach Caitlin Plaskasovitis said. "This was a big game – NDA's final home game. It was their senior night, and we knew it was going to be a tough game going in. We just never say die. We just keep on pushing."

"There wasn't one girl on the team that didn't make an impact in this game," she added. "Elle Bahut served phenomenally, Olivia Bailey set phenomenally, Ava Bryan was perfect in the front row, Jen Lee picked up everything, as always. We're deep. I was able to put Emily Wu in the fourth game and she placed the ball and did her job tonight."

The first set was highly-competitive, and it took a comeback for the Raiders to win it.

The Raiders took an early 4-3 lead after Jennifer Lee tapped the ball over the net for a point. And shortly after, they led 8-5 thanks to three straight aces from Elle Blahut.

Notre Dame Academy rallied back, tying things at nine apiece, but a kill from Brooklyn Rizzo put the Raiders up 10-9.

Midway through the set, the Raiders gained some momentum. A 3-0 run put them up 17-12, forcing a Notre Dame Academy timeout. The final three points of the run came on a kill by Chika Akukwe, an ace from Rizzo, and a diving hit for a point on a tough volley by Zixian Situ.

However, an 8-2 run by Notre Dame Academy made it a 20-19 game in the home team's favor.

The Raiders were able to overcome this deficit; they finished the set on a 6-0 run and took it 25-20.

The Raiders capped the set off with a kill from Ava Bryan, back-to-back aces from Lee, and a hitting error by Notre Dame Academy.

Although the Raiders had a strong finish to their first set, they wouldn't take the second one.

Tied at three apiece, Notre Dame Academy went on a 5-0 run to tie it at eight points each.

The Raiders cut this deficit to three points, 10-7, but not any further. After that, Notre Dame Academy went on a 6-0 run, which it finished off with an ace. The Raiders got a couple of points immediately after this run – and an ace from Rizzo made it a 16-9 set – but they weren't able to come back in this one. The Raiders ended up dropping the set 25-16.

Notre Dame Academy also took the third set.

Midway through the set, the Raiders took a 14-12 lead thanks to a kill from Lee and a hitting error from Notre Dame Academy. However, Notre Dame Academy was dominant in the second half of the set, outscoring the Raiders 13-4. Notre Dame Academy won the set, 25-18.

And Notre Dame Academy looked like it would cruise to an easy victory in the fourth set to win the match, but that didn't happen.

Notre Dame Academy started the set on a 7-0 run, but the Raiders didn't give up. The two sides split the next 22 points evenly, making it an 18-11 set. A hitting error eventually pulled the Raiders within four points, 21-17, and a 3-0 stretch capped off by an ace from Olivia Bailey made it a two-point set: 22-20. A serving error then made it a three-point set again.

It didn't matter. The Raiders went on a 5-0 run to win the set. A couple of hitting errors brought the Raiders within a point, and Kathy Mo served up an ace that bounced off the head of a Notre Dame Academy player. Then, Notre Dame Academy had a hitting error and the set point was called for the Raiders because their opponent was out of its proper rotation. The Raiders won the fourth set 25-23.

"We have been down in a lot of games and have come back," Plaskasovitis said. "I knew they had it in them. It's just a quick switch of momentum and as soon as it's in them, we're not stopping. Pedal to the metal."

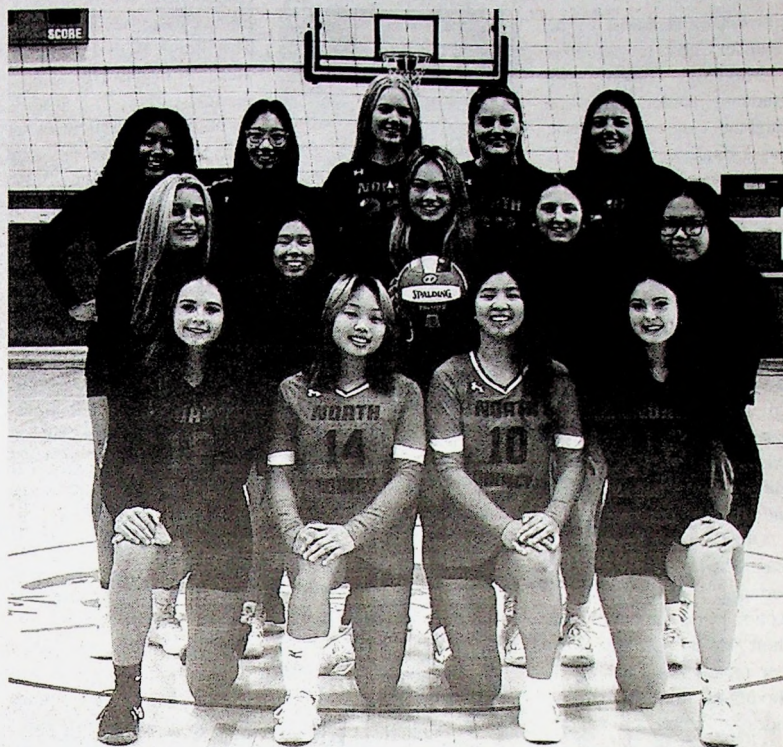

And while the fifth and final set of the contest was competitive early on, the Raiders pulled away. North Quincy went on a 7-0 run with the set tied at six points apiece, putting them two points away from winning the set.

The first two points came on penalties against Notre Dame Academy, then back-to-back aces from Lee put the team up by four points.

And a Notre Dame Academy hitting error, Bryan kill, and Lee ace gave the Raiders a seven-point lead.

NDA made the set closer with a three-point run, but a serving error gave the Raiders a point; Bryan finished the game with an ace. The Raiders won the set 15-10.

Quincy Youth Hockey News

Over the next three months Quincy Youth Hockey travel teams that play within the South Shore Conference have partnered with the Providence Bruins for a day at Amica Mutual Pavilion. Teams from all four divisions (Mites, Squirts, PeeWees and Bantams) will each have the opportunity to skate while attending the game.

It is always so much fun to watch the younger players skate on the big ice during the intermissions as the crowd cheers them on. The older teams play a full game against another South Shore Conference team within their division pre or post Providence Bruins game. The staff treat them like the pros and call each player out by name as the two opposing teams' line up facing each other for the national anthem.

QYH has had a long-standing partnership with the Providence Bruins and it's one of the highlights of the season for the skaters and families to look forward to each year.

The Providence Bruins Youth Hockey Department is back in action in full this season planning all types of outings to all levels of teams and group organizations! If you are interested in more information reach out to Stephanie at 401-680-4728 parrillo@pseagency.com.

Better Business Bureau: Avoid Impersonation Scams This Holiday Season

By BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

The Better Business Bureau is partnering with Amazon to drive an education campaign aimed at helping consumers spot impersonation scams during this holiday season (BBB.org/ImpersonationScams). This scam tactic occurs when a scammer pretends to be a trustworthy organization or individual to steal a person's money or personal information. This co-branded campaign will run through the holiday season, when we typically see an increase in scam attempts with more people seeking to make purchases.

The campaign follows new research published by the BBB Institute for Marketplace Trust on Oct. 5th.

The new report, Start With Trust® Online, the 2022 BBB Online Scams report, highlighted new scam tactics, particularly scams perpetrated online, including online purchase scams that impersonate the brands of well-known businesses.

"Fifty-four percent of survey respondents said the scammer claimed to be from a legitimate organization, according to our latest research," said Melissa Lanning Trumpower, executive director of the BBB Institute for Marketplace Trust, the BBB's Foundation. "Of those who said they were targeted by an impersonation scam, 50% said they were targeted by scammers pretending to be a trustworthy business. Our partnership with Amazon will help us reach more consumers with important information about how to spot and avoid losing money to these scammers."

"Amazon is committed to protecting consumers from impersonation scams and helping them protect themselves," said Kathy Sheehan, vice president and associate general counsel at Amazon. "We're grateful to partner with consumer advocates like the Better Business Bureau to educate consumers."

Data for the campaign and the BBB Institute research report were provided through BBB Scam Tracker, an online reporting and prevention tool that enables people to report and search scam reports. A new-and-improved version of BBB Scam Tracker will be launched in November in partnership with Amazon and Capital One.

BBB and Amazon recommend the following tips for shopping online:

Prevention tips:

- Stay calm. If you receive a suspicious phone call, resist the urge to act immediately, no matter how dramatic the story is or how threatening or intimidating the caller sounds.
- Don't reply directly. Instead, visit the company's website or app to use their customer service channel and verify the message or phone call you received.

- Go to the source or get help. When in doubt, call a friend, loved one, or your local BBB to ask for a second opinion. Regardless of what is said in the phone conversation, tell someone.
- Never feel pressured to give personal information (SSN, account numbers/passwords, license number, etc.) over the phone, especially if the call is unexpected. Scammers may try to use calls, texts, and emails to impersonate a company's customer service.

If you are unsure, end the call/chat and reach out directly to the company's customer service phone number or website.

- Never pay over the phone, especially if the call was unsolicited. If you need to make a payment, go directly to the organization's website or app.
- Never allow remote access to your computer if somebody offers tech support. Shut down your computer immediately and seek support directly from your service provider.
- Search BBB Scam Tracker online. If you're suspicious about the situation, search BBB Scam Tracker to see if anyone else has reported a similar situation. The NEW BBB Scam Tracker enables you to search by email, URL, phone number, and more. You can also report suspicious communications that mention Amazon directly to the company.

- Check that email address or URL more closely. Scammers use similar website addresses or emails to appear legitimate, but if you look closely, you may find one letter or number that is off.

Sarita Kwok has distinguished herself as one of the most captivating and sophisticated performers to emerge from the ranks of Australia's classical musicians. Described by the New York Times as a "fine young violinist," she has been enthralled audiences since she was named Symphony Australia Young Performer of the Year (Strings) in 1998. Her cosmopolitan musical career has included performances as a solo artist, recitalist, and chamber musician throughout Europe, Asia, and North America, and as a featured soloist with the major orchestras of her native Australia. She has been a prize-winner at the Kloster Schöntal, Gisborne, and Lipinski/Wieniawski international competitions.

A committed chamber musician, Sarita has appeared in performances at Zankel and Weill Recital Halls at Carnegie Hall, Sapporo's Kitara Hall (Japan), Villa Medici (Italy), Théâtre du Jeu de Paume, and Salle Olivier Messiaen (France), Melbourne Concert Hall (Australia) and has been featured at the Aldeburgh, Pacific, Aix-en-Provence, Norfolk and Rockport music festivals, amongst others.

Sarita received critical acclaim for her recording of Ezra Laderman's last three string quartets for Albany records. Her recent recording of Martin Bresnick's Josephine the Singer for solo violin was described by Gramophone as "gorgeously executed". Her 2016 CD, Interchange: Violin and Piano Duos of the 20th Century, was described by Deutschlandfunk as "electrifying". The Arabella String Quartet's album with Naxos (May 2017) "In the Moment" was named Album of the Week by ClassicFM and was praised by The Strad magazine as "an artfully balanced mix of rarities ... this is a fine disc, the Arabella digging deep to produce performances of great intensity and poise". Their second disc of The Six Concertante Quartets of Le Chevalier de Saint-Georges was released by Naxos in May 2022.

The former director of the undergraduate lessons program at Yale, and a Yale faculty member for 8 years, Sarita now holds the Adams Endowed Chair in music, and serves as Professor of Music and chair of the Department of Music at Gordon College, Massachusetts. She received her doctorate from the Yale School of Music.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might feel compelled to get involved on the "right side" of a seemingly unfair fight, but appearances can be deceptive. Get the facts before going forth into the fray.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Bullying others into agreeing with your position could cause resentment. Instead, persuade them to join you by making your case on a logical point-by-point basis.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Resist pushing for a workplace decision you might feel is long overdue. Your impatience could backfire. Meanwhile, focus on that still-unsettled personal situation.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You might want to take a break from your busy schedule to restore your energy levels. Use this less- hectic time to also reassess your plans and make needed changes.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) What you like to think of as determination might be seen by others as nothing more than stubbornness. Try to be more flexible if you hope to get things resolved.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Watch that you don't unwittingly reveal work-related information to the wrong person. It's best to say nothing until you get official clearance to open up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) With things settling down at work or at home, you can now take on a new challenge without fear of distraction. Be open to helpful suggestions from colleagues.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your creativity can help resolve an emotional situation that might otherwise get out of hand. Continue to be your usual caring and sensitive self.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You could impress a lot of influential people with the way you untangle a few knotty problems. Meanwhile, a colleague is set to share some welcome news.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Aspects favor recharging your social life and meeting new people. It's also a good time to renew friendships that might be stagnating due to neglect on both sides.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Congratulations. Your talent for working out a highly technical problem earns you well-deserved praise. The weekend could bring news about a friend or relative.

Q: I'm really enjoying the new show "Fire Country." However, I always worry that a show I invest my time in will be canceled. How is this one doing with its ratings? — U.T.

A: CBS recently ordered full seasons for three of its new series: "East New York," "So Help Me Todd," and "Fire Country," so that should give you a vote of confidence. According to TVLine.com, the network didn't announce specifically what constitutes a "full season" for these particular shows, but I would say it stands a very good chance of being renewed for its second season as well.

"Fire Country" stars Max Thieriot ("SEAL Team") as a recently released prison inmate fighting brush fires out west. It had the highest-rated season premiere this fall for a network television show. It also airs on Friday nights, which is not an ideal time slot, since people not only have a lot of options for entertainment as the weekend approaches. But with more than 8 million viewers tuning in, I would call it a win for CBS.

Thieriot himself has a lot invested in his new series, as he's not just starring in it, but he also co-created the series with producer Jerry Bruckheimer.

Thieriot's interest behind the camera began with directing an episode of "Bates Motel," a series on A&E starring Vera Farmiga and Freddie Highmore. Thieriot played Dylan, the half-brother of the infamous Norman Bates. He then went on to direct a couple episodes of "SEAL Team."

Q: Could you give me some information on Gabe Rygaard from "Ax Men" and Darrell Ward from "Ice Road Truckers?" — S.W.

A: Gabe Rygaard was the owner of Rygaard Logging after his father, Craig, retired at the end of season six of the reality series "Ax Men." Sadly, Rygaard died in a car accident in 2016 in Washington, where he lived. "Ax Men" aired on the History channel for 10 seasons. Rygaard's death occurred after filming was completed for the ninth season. After a three-year hiatus, the show returned for just one more season.

Another tragedy struck the families of the History Channel when Darrell Ward of the "Ice Road Truckers" fame died in a plane crash, also in 2016. He was piloting a single-engine Cessna on the way back from a fan event in Montana. Ironically, just before his death, he was set to start filming a new documentary series about plane wreckage locations.

Q: I think Niecy Nash is fantastic in "The Rookie." What else has she been in? — L.P.

Max Thieriot
"Fire Country"

Photo credit:
Jeff Costello &
Karla Gotcher

A: Niecy Nash has been acting on screen since the mid-1990s, but it was her hilarious role in the ensemble comedy "Reno 911!" that put her on the map. Since then, she's effortlessly switched from comedy to drama in memorable lead and supporting roles, including two limited series on Netflix: "When They See Us" and "Dahmer — Monster."

Nash is no doubt thrilled to learn that ABC just renewed "The Rookie: Feds" for a total of 22 episodes this season.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

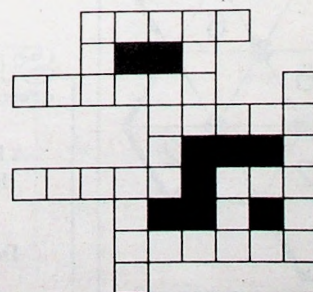

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

Helping a "Found" Cat Get Home

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My friend found an orange cat matching the description on a paper flyer posted on a nearby telephone pole. However, the email address listed on the flyer keeps coming back as "invalid," so she has no way to contact the owner. What else can she do to return the cat to its rightful owner? — Jimmy V., via email

DEAR JIMMY: Kudos to you and your friend for caring for the lost cat and trying to get it back to the owner! The first thing to do is to contact nearby shelters and veterinarian's offices and tell them that you've found a lost cat but cannot contact the owner. They may have you bring in the cat to scan for a microchip -- the best way to identify pets and reunite them with their owners when a collar and tag are lost. Or they may ask for a description and have you email a photo of the cat so they can put up a "found" flyer in their lobby. Chances are, if the owner has already put up flyers, they have probably been checking with shelters regularly to see if their cat has been reported found or has turned up there. Next, get the word out. Paws.org has a downloadable PDF flyer (www.paws.org/resources/reunite-a-found-pet/) that you can use to post your own found sign and add a contact email or number for the owner to call. Post a found notice on Facebook groups like Lost and Pound (www.facebook.com/lostandpound), which focus on lost pets. Chances are, you'll locate the owner locally, but getting the word out as far and as wide as possible will help reunite that cat with its owner.

Send your questions, tips or comments to ask@pawscorner.com.

"A Friend of the Family" (TV-MA) — While the kidnappings of Jan Broberg have been covered in the media before (a Netflix documentary titled "Abducted in Plain Sight" was a hot topic when it was released in 2017), Peacock has decided to adapt the true story into a miniseries starring Jake Lacy and Anna Paquin. Lacy portrays the perpetrator, Robert Berchtold, who nosed his way into the Broberg family with the intent of developing intimate relationships with not only the Broberg parents, but the children as well — specifically Jan, who was kidnapped by him two separate times in 1974 and in 1976. The series has been praised for its focus on the victims, rather than the abuser, which is no doubt influenced by Jan Broberg herself serving as executive producer for the show. Out now. (Peacock)

"Luckiest Girl Alive" (R) — Before Ani Fanelli was a 30-year-old hotshot writer living in New York, awaiting a grandiose wedding to the love of her life, she was a young girl named Tifani, who was just trying to find a place for herself in the world. Her first taste of luxury only came after she received a scholarship to a prestigious private school, the turning point that would alter the course of her life. The dark events that took place at the school would come to follow and haunt her to the current day, and until she turns around to face her trauma in the eye, Tifani cannot truly become Ani. Mila Kunis plays the (un)luckiest girl alive in this mystery thriller film out now. (Netflix)

"Run Sweetheart Run" (R) —

From horror powerhouse Blumhouse Productions, this psychological thriller stars Ella Balinska ("Charlie's Angels") and Pilou Asbaek ("Game of Thrones"). Balinska plays Cherie, a woman usually absorbed in her work, as she gets set up on a blind date with a man named Ethan. After Ethan charms her with a wonderful night out, she's left swooning at the end of their date. Little does she know that as she accepts an invitation into his home, he has pulled her into a violent, deadly game of cat and mouse. Narrowly escaping his home, Cherie must run for her life around her city to run from Ethan, who somehow lurks at every corner. Out on Oct. 28. (Prime Video)

Jake Lacy stars as Robert Berchtold in "A Friend of the Family."

"Matriarch" (NR) — As Hulu's month-long Halloween event, Halloween, continues, this original folk horror film from the streaming service might be its most terrifying release this year. Twenty years after running away from her home, an advertising executive named Laura reaches rock bottom in her struggle with alcohol and drug addiction. Upon receiving a call from her mother after Laura mysteriously survives an overdose, she decides to pay her first visit back to her mother. But right away, Laura notices that something's off about the village, where no one has aged in the last two decades, and she begins experiencing horrifying paranormal visions that make her past troubles seem minuscule. Out now. (Hulu)

Opening lead — three of diamonds.

In planning the play of a notrump contract, declarer's first responsibility when dummy appears is to count his certain winners. These are the tricks that can be taken immediately.

However, declarer may occasionally be lulled into a false sense of security if he completes this assessment superficially. As a case in point, consider what happened to South in today's deal.

Declarer played low from dummy on the diamond lead and won East's six with the eight. He could now count nine tricks — three diamonds, four clubs and the two major-suit aces — but the count was a false one. Taking four club tricks was easier said than done, due to the lack of an entry to dummy.

South began by cashing the diamond ace, learning that West had started with the Q-10-5-3. Next, in an effort to overcome the club blockage, he played the K-J of clubs, overtaking the jack with the queen. He then cashed the ace, hoping the ten would fall. When it didn't, he tried leading a spade to the queen, but after the finesse lost to West, he was out of ammunition and finished down one.

Actually, there would have been nothing wrong with declarer's counting to nine tricks if he had given more consideration at the outset to his entry situation. Since a side entry to dummy was needed to ensure four club tricks, the proper play at trick one was to take East's six of diamonds with the ace!

All that would then be needed for the contract to succeed is for West to have led from a legitimate diamond suit, certainly a normal expectancy against three-notrump. After taking the ace, declarer next cashes the king of diamonds and K-J of clubs, then leads a diamond toward dummy's J-9.

West can do whatever he pleases, but he cannot prevent South from sooner or later reaching dummy with the jack of diamonds to collect the A-Q of clubs for his eighth and ninth tricks.

Workouts at the Rec Center

Two months ago the senior center commandeered a large space in the town's rec center because we had vetoed the idea of exercise classes in a too-small space at the senior center.

It was a two-month test, warned the senior center, to see if we'd actually show up. They even brought in a too-young male coach to put us through our paces. Although we were suspicious about his age, by the third week we agreed he knew his stuff.

And he himself brought in an even younger female assistant who stayed at the front of the room demonstrating the exercises while the young male coach paced around the room, expression serious, studying us, stopping us in mid-move to instruct and praising where warranted.

Two weeks ago he brought in yet another assistant and broke us into two groups across the rec center floor. He labeled us "Easy" and "Not Easy," saying that some of us needed to take things more slowly while others needed to put more effort into the workout. Try as I might to get transferred to the Easy group, he was having none of it.

He worked hard on our behalf, badgering the rec center to open up the weight room so he could give out some hand weights. He coaxed the local sporting goods store into donating some stretchy bands and yoga mats. Last week he brought in a diet hand-out, foods to eat to build muscle.

We discovered just this week, however, that we've all been guinea pigs, that our too-young male coach was using us as his senior fitness specialist project for college. Color us shocked! We weren't sure how we felt about that until we learned that he'd earned an "A" on the project.

The other good news is that they've hired our too-young male coach and his two assistants on a permanent basis. And we get to stay at the rec center.

1. Who was "Sir Duke" written about?
2. Who was Boxcar Willie?
3. Which group released "Nights in White Satin"?
4. Which song was David Bowie's first U.S. No. 1 hit?
5. Name the song that contains these lyrics: "I heard the weatherman predict a sunny day. He did not mean to lie. I look outside it's raining."

Answers

1. Duke Ellington. Stevie Wonder's 1977 hit was a tribute to the Duke, who had died in 1974. Other jazz greats like Louis Armstrong and Glenn Miller were also mentioned in the lyrics.

2. Boxcar Willie (born Cecil Travis Martin) was a country music singer and writer of hobo music. At the same time, he was a flight engineer in the U.S. Air Force.

3. The Moody Blues, in 1967. And yes, songwriter Justin Hayward penned the song after receiving a set of satin sheets. When it was released, the song only went to No. 103 on the charts. Four years later it climbed to No. 1 on the Top 100.

4. "Fame," in 1975.

5. "This Time I'm In It For Love," by Player, in 1978. Player's version made it to the Top 10 charts, while previous versions (by Austin Roberts and Cyn-di Grecco in 1976 and 1977) didn't chart at all.

Abigail Adams Statue Dedication Saturday At H-A Common

timated attendance of 3,500 for the dedication of the Hancock-Adams Common four years ago.

"I don't compare it necessarily to the opening of the Hancock-Adams Common, because that was the opening of the whole park — it wasn't just about the statues — so the newness of that I think attracted a lot more folks. Plus, David McCullough was a huge, huge attraction," Koch said, referring to the late historian and author who was a keynote speaker at the 2018 ceremony, along with Gov. Charlie Baker.

The mayor has chosen two keynote speakers, both experts on the Adams family, for the ceremony on Saturday.

"We've got two terrific keynote speakers. Catherine Allgor, who is the president of the Mass. Historic Society and author and historian. And, Danielle Allen, who is a professor at Harvard who is an Adams expert. She is also an author of a recent book too about our Declaration of Independence," Koch said.

"Both are very, very well astute when it comes to the Adamases and the history of the Adamases and their contributions, so I'm looking forward to that."

"I'm hoping we have 400 or 500 people there," Koch added. "We'll have refreshments following in a tent right on the Hancock-Adams Common on the grass portion for the people. It should be a great day."

Also slated to speak at Saturday's dedication is US Rep. Stephen Lynch, Koch said. Other federal and state elected officials have been invited to the event and will be given a chance to speak if they are present. The mayor did note that he is wary about the event going too long depending on the forecast for Saturday.

"Timewise, if it's a cold day, you don't want to be out there too long for people," he said.

The ceremony will take place rain or shine. In the event of inclement weather, the mayor said the dedication could be moved indoors to the nearby McIntyre Government Center.

Koch announced plans to incorporate the new statue of Abigail Adams into the common earlier this year, after a group of residents urged the city to return to the downtown the statue of Abigail and a young John Quincy Adams that was removed when construction of the common began. Koch commissioned Sergey Eylanbekov, the artist who crafted the statues of John Adams and John Hancock that bookend the park's promenade, to craft the new statue.

The city worked with some of those residents who spoke out about the Abigail Adams statue to select the home for the new one within the common, and also got their feedback on the quotes chosen to frame the statue.

"The committee that we put together, which included a number of the women that had written letters and spoken, were involved with that along with Ed Fitzgerald and Alexandra Elliott from the [Quincy] Historical Society. They did the research, they came up with those quotes, and I'm fine with them," Koch said.

"It's a pretty incredible story, John and Abigail, and the letter writing back and forth. It's just an incredible marriage in the history of our country. When people see the statue and how she is, it's going to really make a lot of sense, because they wrote so many letters back and forth to each other. And she'll be looking in the direction of where John is. I think people are going to be very impressed. It's a beautiful piece of work. It really is."

The new statue of Abigail Adams will be heroic-sized, roughly seven feet tall, the same stature of the other two statues on the common. Like the other two statues, it will also be uplit at night.

Before construction of the new Hancock-Adams Common began, the city had planned to include a total of four new statues within the park — sculptures of John, Abigail and John Quincy Adams, as well as one of John Hancock. Two of the statues — those of John Adams and John Hancock — were included in the final plan for the new park, while the city planned to dedicate a proposed performing arts center elsewhere in Quincy Center to Abigail Adams and fellow first lady Louisa Adams.

In the recent interview, Koch called the new statue of Abigail Adams "a perfect alternative" to naming the performing arts center after the first lady.

"In the original plan we contemplated [statues of] Abigail and John Quincy but, not knowing the full scale of the park at that time, what was going to happen for development at the Quincy Center [station], we didn't carry that theme all the way to the station. If you look, you've got concrete sidewalks versus brick and granite. There is a reason for that, because we didn't want to be digging up things again," Koch said, referring to the original plan for the new common.

"Then we thought about the performing arts center and quite frankly, that has taken longer, so I understand the impatience of people. I think this is a perfect alternative. I think everybody seems to be happy with it."

"And she's in the heart of the common"

When asked about creating a new statue of the nation's sixth president, Koch said that, "we're going to be dealing with John Quincy Adams at some point."

In an interview earlier this fall, the mayor said the proposed performing arts center would likely be dedicated to those in the creative arts who hail from Quincy, such as actresses Ruth Gordon and Lee Remick, musician Dick Dale, or writer John Cheever.

Public Safety Unions Agree To Three-Year Contracts

respectful way in which we were able to come to this agreement," said Police Captain Rick McCusker, President of the Superior Officers Association.

The Fire union, which represents all firefighters including command staff, agreed to an alcohol and drug testing policy as part of its contract, as well provisions that will allow for increased training for active shooter scenarios and water rescues. In return, firefighters will receive a 2 percent increase on a component of their salaries dealing with the handling of hazardous materials.

"This is a fair deal, one that we worked hard at the table in collaboration with the Administration to negotiate. It protects our members, provides a cost-of-living wage increase, and at the same time creates the platform for additional training and protections the City had sought. This is the kind of agreement that's possible when we all sit at the table, talk honestly, and drill down until we get there. We'll always have our differences, but no one can ever accuse this Administration of closing the door and being unwilling to hash out our differences," said Tom Bowes, President of Quincy Firefighters Local 792.

ScrubaDub, Community Servings Partner On 'Pie in the Sky' To Feed Neighbors In Need

Community Servings, a nonprofit provider of medically tailored meals and nutrition services, and a leader in "food is medicine" research, advocacy and policy, is teaming up with ScrubaDub Auto Wash Centers once again for the 30th annual Pie in the Sky Thanksgiving fundraiser that helps feed chronically and critically ill neighbors throughout Massachusetts.

ScrubaDub will give away a complimentary Express Wash and more to those who make a $30 "Pie for a Community Servings Client" donation at www.pieinthefsky.org. Each donation supports a week's worth of nutritious meals for food and nutrition-insecure neighbors living with illnesses such as HIV/AIDS, cancer, heart disease, diabetes, and more.

"As a family-run business deeply rooted in the community, we understand the importance of giving back. That's why we passionately support Community Servings' mission to provide medically tailored, nutritious, scratch-made meals to chronically and critically ill individuals and their families," said Mathew Paisner, ScrubaDub's Director of Business Development. "We're proud of our longstanding partnership and excited to do our part to make the 30th anniversary of Pie in the Sky the biggest and best year yet."

This year online donors also have a chance at winning one year of unlimited free car washes. In addition, motorists visiting any of ScrubaDub's 20 New England tunnel locations may donate $5 to Community Servings to receive free Simoniz UltraShine protection ($10 value) with each car wash. All online donations that qualify for the free Express Wash coupons are sent by email and are valid after Thanksgiving.

Over the past eight years, the Paisner family-owned car wash company has contributed over $200,000 to Community Servings and donated over $300,000 of in-kind car wash services to customers who help them support the cause.

"We are grateful for ScrubaDub's dedication to our mission and their continued support for the communities that both of our organizations serve," said David B. Waters, CEO of Community Servings.

The 30th annual Pie in the Sky campaign continues until Nov. 19. For more information, visit www.pieinthefsky.org.
